FLAMES CAUSE $50,000 LOSS NEAR ORPHEUM

Fire Starts About 11 O'Clock in the Atlanta Box Factory.

BLAZE REACHES ORPHEUM BUT IS STOPPED THERE

Whistles Give People of Atlanta First Intimation of Fire—Rain Falls Just After the Conflagration Was Under Good Headway.

A serious fire broke out in the building occupied by the Atlanta Box Factory, at the corner of Bartow street and the Western and Atlantic railroad, last night at 11 o'clock, spread to the United Paper Company, and seriously threatened the Orpheum theater and the furniture company of Ford & Johnson.

The damage is estimated at $50,000, the Atlanta Box Factory losing $15,000, and A. R. Morgan, grain storage, $2,300. Ford & Johnson Co., Case Threshing Machine Company, General Electric Company, and the United Paper Company were also losers. Practically all the buildings in the block were the property of the Miller Real Estate Company. The most of the damage was fully covered by insurance.

Engines Start Whistling.

The fire started about 11 o'clock, just after Sergeant Foster, of the police department, had passed the buildings on Marietta street. When he had gone several blocks, he looked back and saw dense clouds of smoke floating across Marietta street. Several engines on the railroad at once began to whistle shrilly, and the fire department answered.

The fire had obtained considerable headway, and in addition was fanned by a strong southwest breeze, which had sprung up coincident with the appearance of the flames. A slight drizzle also started about the same time, and soon amounted to a steady downpour, and it aided in putting an end to the flames.

When the department got down to work the flames had enveloped the entire building occupied by the Atlanta Box Factory, and the heat made a near approach to the scene almost impossible. The firemen did most of their fighting from behind the various brick buildings adjacent to those afire. Otherwise their efforts would have been futile.

Fire Was Very Hot.

The fire was one of the hottest in the history of the city, and but for the protection offered by nearby walls, which were almost impenetrable, all efforts to reach the heart of the fire would have been of no avail.

From the Atlanta Box Factory and the United Paper Company the fire rapidly spread toward the Orpheum theater, and a more serious fire was threatened. The fact that the windows had recently been bricked up was responsible for the safety to the building. The wind blew the flames against the Orpheum and caused the window casing on the outside to be burned out. Three streams of water played on the fire from the building. There was practically no damage, with the exception of wet scenery and the outside casings. Jack Mashburn, property man at the Orpheum, lead a force of stage employees into the Orpheum after forcing an entrance, and finally got the scenery out of the way.

Freight Cars Destroyed.

A line of freight cars along the back of the burning buildings caught, and three or more cars were destroyed. Others over a hundred yards away were pulled away by switch engines just in time for safety.

All the while the fire was in progress a fire wall separating the Atlanta Box Factory and the Fort & Johnson Furniture Co., prevented the entrance of the flames to the latter building and saved a stock of goods valued at $50,000. The sprinkler system installed in the furniture company's building was put into operation when the heat became excessive enough to melt the lead of the ceiling pipes and undoubtedly saved the furniture company's stock. As it was, the damage from water was considerable, but was fully covered by insurance.

In the building occupied by the above-named company was a fine gray horse which could not be liberated, and which pranced about as the flames tried to lick their way through a tin door next to the seat of the fire. A fire alarm in the building rang the entire time of the blaze, and the water from the sprinkling system kept things very wet the whole time.

Stables Were in Danger.

Across the street from the fire the management of the Piedmont stables had prepared to run their whole bunch of horses out in case the fire leaped across the street and threatened their building. In another stable between the Orpheum theater and the Atlanta Box Factory was another stable, which contained several mules. The stable

SECOND NARROW ESCAPE FOR ORPHEUM THEATER

Providence seems to be keeping especial guard over the Orpheum theater, for twice that building has been threatened by flames within the last few months.

The fire last night, however, came closer than the one of last May. So near to the building came the blaze that the wooden window casings were burned, and had it not been for the foresight of the owners of the building in blocking up these windows with bricks immediately after the other fire, the theater would have been added to the list of burned structures.

Both sides and the rear of the building have now been threatened. The first fire started in the Piedmont stables, on the corner of Marietta and Spring streets, and swept down the street towards Bartow, stopping within a few feet of the Orpheum compelling the emptying of the theater. The second fire started near the corner of Bartow and Marietta, and swept onward towards Springs, and jam up against the theater its progress was stopped.

However, the Orpheum had its taste of fire, for the firemen dragged their hose through the building in order to fight the blaze.

FIRE ALARM TURNED IN BY CHIEF W. B. CUMMINGS

The fire alarm was turned in by Chief Cummings. Hearing the whistles blowing, he hurried to the scene and turned in the alarm rom the corner of Bartow and Marietta streets.

"The value of the property destroyed," said the chief, as he looked upon the fading, dying out embers, "will approximate $50,000. I base that estimate upon what I have been told there was in the places. The box factory, owned by the Wellhouses, did not consist wholly and entirely of boxes—the made-up stock of the firm—but under that roof there was an abundance of paper. The company carried a neat insurance.

NIGHT WATCHMAN MORRIS MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS

W. M. Morris, the night watchman for the Atlanta Box Factory, up to an early hour this morning, had not been seen, and it was rumored that he had lost his life in the flames.

Mrs. Morris, as soon as she learned that it was the building over which her husband kept watch that was burning, hastened to the scene, and assisted by scores of willing hands, made a thorough search for him. He had been in the rear of the buildings with the railroad employees when last seen, and in the excitement was lost.

The city police are making a thorough investigation as to his whereabouts, and all the burned portion was searched for his body, but without result.

CAMELS MARCH WITH SHRINERS

Fifth Annual Conclave of Arabic Order Meets at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., July 13.—This has been a day of parades and of music in St. Paul, and tonight the gaily lighted streets are crowded with thousands of visitors who have come to attend the thirty-fifth annual conclave of the ancient Arabic order of the Mystic Shrine.

Though the formal opening of the conclave does not take place until tomorrow, yet the social and entertainment features were in full swing today.

The feature of the afternoon entertainment was a parade and review of Fort Snelling, in which the entire garrison took part.

Thirty-five Arab patrols, twice as many as ever before attended a conclave, will be in St. Paul during the week. Most of these have already arrived, and they spent the day marching through the downtown streets.

The only two camels owned by a Shrine were brought in today with Molia Temple, St. Joseph, Mo.

The first session of the imperial council will take place tomorrow morning.

The culminating event of the week will occur tomorrow night, when the electrical parade will start from the new capitol at 9 o'clock, and march through streets that are festooned with 25,000 electric lights.

TENSION IS DRAWN TIGHTER.

Preparations Being Made for Possible Clash in Miners' Strike.

Birmingham, Ala., July 13.—All coal companies operated by furnace companies and commercial companies in Alabama who have not been recognizing the unions, started up as usual today, and if there is any shortage of men at work it is not to be noticed as yet from the outside. The leaders of the miners claim that there will hardly be any production for the day, and that more men are joining the ranks of the union daily.

It was given out at the headquarters of the miners that by the end of the week the supply of coal will have been cut down so that blast iron furnaces may have to bank fires. This is denied in operators' offices. Sheriff Higdon has appointed another batch of deputies for work in the field as a precautionary movement. Many rumors have prevailed during the past few days of violence, but nothing definite has happened. The tension, however, is being drawn tighter, say the county officials, and preparations are being made for any emergency.

BETTER TIMES FOR RAILROADS

Indications Are That Transportation Business Is Becoming Normal.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 13.—Indications are multiplying in all branches of trade that a return of normal business conditions is rapidly approaching. Railroad managers, especially, report a decided improvement, and a sharp demand for cars for the transportation of all classes of freight, with the possible exception of steel and iron.

A prominent railway official said today that while this branch of business continued far below normal, it no doubt largely resulted from the fact that the railway companies, themselves, were not buying material. This state of affairs, however, he added, could not possibly continue much longer, and the railroads would shortly be compelled to go into the market, and when they did so, the demand would be sudden, as well as heavy.

Grand Chief Engineer Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today that his reports showed decided business improvements on the railroads throughout the country. Repair shop forces, he added, had been put on full time on practically all of the railroads, both east and west, and many engineers, who have been idle, are now returning to work. Mr. Stone declared the business outlook to be exceedingly promising.

YOUNG MAN BADLY STABBED.

Two Young Men Have Fight Which May End Fatally.

Statesboro, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Joe Stubbs and Dave Wilson, two young men, engaged in a fight near Adabelle, in the lower part of this county. Wilson used a knife on Stubbs while he attempted to use a pistol on Wilson. Stubbs dropped his pistol and was cut in eight different places, a wound in the abdomen is feared will result fatally.

Sheriff Kendricks placed Dave Wilson and his brother, John, in the county jail at this place. They will be given a preliminary trial as soon as Stubbs' condition will permit.

Half a Block of Stores Burned.

Birmingham, Ala., July 13.—Fire destroyed half a block of stores at Goodwater, Ala., Sunday, doing damage to about $25,000 worth of property. Insurance to half the amount of loss is carried. The blaze started in the jewelry establishment of L. A. Grogan. The merchants affected managed to get out most of their stocks, which accounts for the small loss.

TAFT'S VIEWS ON INJUNCTION

He Will Declare His Position in Forceful Terms.

WORKING ON HIS SPEECH

Republican Nominee Is Preparing Address of Acceptance, and It Is Probable Injunction Question Will Receive Most Attention.

Hot Springs, Va., July 13.—Beginning the work of writing his speech of acceptance of the presidential nomination to be delivered in Cincinnati on July 28, Judge William H. Taft today made a careful study and comparison of the democratic and republican platforms, adopted by the recent conventions. He has at his command copies of speeches of acceptance of candidates of both parties of recent years, and within a day or two he will receive copies of the platforms of both parties for many years. Mr. Taft is handling this task as a judge on the bench would hear a case. He is looking through all the documents bearing on the subject and before concluding his work he will have the views of many leaders of the party on the draft of the document.

Of all the planks in the platform, that relating to injunctions is probably the one that will receive most attention. So much has been said on this subject, criticism from democratic sources having been made on his record while on the bench in respect to the process of the injunction and the two parties having adopted planks on that subject which are likely to play an important part in the campaign, Mr. Taft will declare this position on this important question in forceful and unmistakable terms.

Senator Warner's notification speech will be so brief that it will not require over ten minutes in its delivery. The speech of acceptance also will be short. The letter of acceptance will treat public questions at greater length and will not be forthcoming for several weeks after the ceremony of notifying the candidate has taken place.

Mr. Taft today began his day's work by looking over his mail and dictating a few letters, after which he went to the golf links. Even with the necessity of finishing the pressing task before him, he does not intend to set aside his favorite game.

"I will play golf every day," he said as he started out this morning, "just as I would take medicine."

He had an expert player against whom to contest in the person of George Ingalls, son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead.

All five visiting statesmen have left for their homes and today there were no conferences to interrupt Mr. Taft in his work. He has invited no one here this week, except Arthur I. Vorys, of Ohio, who will be in charge of the campaign in Ohio. A delegation to ask Judge Taft to be present at the dedication of the new court house at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, came here today, and Mr. Taft accepted the invitation. He said he would not make a political speech, but that he would possibly talk about the administration of justice. The dedication will take place next Monday.

BIRTH OF BABY ON CAR BLOCKS ALL TRAFFIC.

Chicago, July 13.—Street car traffic in Washington street was brought to a standstill for half an hour today when Mrs. John Ruloff, a passenger on an Armitage avenue car, while passing the city hall, gave birth to a girl baby. The woman was on the way to a hospital, accompanied by a nurse. Dr. I. G. Rawlins, a physician attached to the city health department, was called, and later mother and child were taken in a police ambulance to the hospital.

SHOT BY WOMAN HE MADE WIDOW

Dr. Simpson Is Mortally Wounded by Mother-in-Law.

WIFE SPURNS WOUNDED MAN

When Mrs. Simpson Learned Husband Had Been Shot She Refused to Go Near Him and He Had to Crawl for Help.

Northport, N. Y., July 13.—Standing within a few feet of the spot where, a little more than two years ago, he shot and killed his aged father-in-law, Dr. James Weddell Simpson, a dentist of New York, was shot and perhaps mortally wounded today by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bartley T. Horner, the woman he made a widow.

Dr. Simpson's wife, from whom he has been estranged for many months, was near when the shot was fired, but she did not witness the shooting. Upon learning that it was her husband who had been wounded, she refused to go near him, and Dr. Simpson had to crawl to a house 200 feet away to have his wound attended to.

Mrs. Horner was later arrested and held in $5,000 bail, while Dr. Simpson, with the assistance of two friends, made his way to Roosevelt hospital, New York. The bullet lodged in his body, and an immediate operation was performed to take the bullet out. The doctors said tonight that Dr. Simpson has only a small chance of recovering.

How the Tragedy Occured.

Statements from Dr. Simpson and from Mrs. Horner as to the circumstances attending the shooting disagree. The dentist says that he had received word that his wife intended to sue him for a divorce, and that he went to the Horner home to talk with her about it. He says he rang the door bell, and upon receiving no response, peered through the door pane. He saw Mrs. Horner, he says, and called to her to open the door. Then, Dr. Simpson says, Mrs. Horner grabbed up a revolver and shot him. The bullet entered his body above the abdomen, and he fell back against the door sill. A second shot was fired at him, he claims, but the bullet went wild.

Mrs. Horner does not deny that she did the shooting, but she claims justification. Through her lawyer, Rowland Miles, she said that Dr. Simpson had several times called at the house and that his visits were unwelcome. When he came today, she says, she ordered him away, and when he refused to go, she took up a revolver and shot at him.

Woman Released on Bail.

Mrs. Horner was charged with felonious assault. After Justice Hawkins had fixed bail at $5,000, Mrs. Simpson, the prisoner's daughter, qualified as bondsman and secured the release of her mother. Justice Hawkins set the hearing for next Wednesday.

This second tragedy at the Horner homestead is only another chapter in a series of unhappy domestic events of the last few years. The shooting of Bartley T. Horner by Dr. Simpson aroused the countryside in December, 1905, and when the dentist was put on trial his wife took the witness stand against him. Mrs. Horner also gave damaging testimony against her son-in-law. Dr. Simpson was going through the manual of arms with a shotgun when he accidentally shot his father-in-law.

After the verdict of acquittal Dr. Simpson resumed the practice of dentistry. He opened a suite of offices on Fifth avenue, New York, but he had lost many of his clients, and of late, it is said, he has sought financial aid.

DR. JOHN WHITE TO PREACH FOR JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Atlanta Preacher Will Fill Pulpit of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church Three Sundays.

Dr. John White, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Atlanta, has received and accepted an invitation from the pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, in Cleveland, at which John D. Rockefeller worships, to fill the pulpit there for three Sundays, beginning the last Sunday of this month.

With the letter from the pastor came one from Mr. Rockefeller adding his request and inviting Dr. White to make a visit to his home. Dr. White declares that he will give Mr. Rockefeller straightforward truths, the kind he gives his own people, and adds that this is the kind the oil king wants, in his opinion.

WHO WILL HEAD PROHI TICKET?

Strong Sentiment in Favor of Wright, of Georgia.

WRIGHT MAKES STATEMENT

Chairman Peake in Opening Convention Assailed Women and Churches for Their Lack of Interest in the Prohibition Movement.

Columbus, Ohio, July 13.—A platform of one plank, confined to the single issue of prohibition, is the object of a move sarted at the opening session of the state prohibition convention this afternoon by Temperory Chairman H. L. Peake, of Sandusky, and the struggle will be carried to the national prohibition convention on Wednesday.

Mr. Peake, in an address which consumed more than two hours, assailed female suffrage, which has come to be regarded as an established tenet of the prohibition party, declaring that women drink more and men less than they did a decade ago, and that the weakest laws regulating the liquor traffic are in the woman suffrage states of Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming.

He assailed the indifference of the churches to the prohibition movement, criticized the Anti-Saloon League, and praised George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, for refusing to credit any votes to temperance that were not cast for prohibition tickets.

Many White-Haired Men.

Bearded and white-haired men were in a majority among the delegates, and a dozen women enrolled as alternates. The convention was opened by the singing of "America." Rev. W. F. McCaul, of Cincinnati, offered prayer, and Professor J. W. Holton, of Oberlin, sang "The World is Moving On."

In response to the question "How many of those present voted for the first prohibition candidate for president, John P. St. John," forty hands were raised.

The various committees selected at the district meetings were announced, and the convention adjourned until evening.

Contrary to expectations, it is said today by prominent delegates to the national prohibition convention, there will not be a bitter fight over indorsement of the Anti-Saloon League by the convention here this week. The sentiment of the men directing affairs in the party is epitomized by National Chairman Charles R. Jones, of Chicago, who said today:

"No delegate will have the temerity to introduce a resolution indorsing the Anti-Saloon League. The sentiment of the convention is against it. There will be no fight on this proposition."

On the other hand, some of the anti-saloon men insist that they will bring the question to the attention of the convention.

The national prohibition convention will convene in Memorial hall on Wednesday, the executive committee meeting on Tuesday to select the temporary officers.

The fight for the nomination for president started today in earnest when many of the delegates began coming in. Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, has been prominently mentioned.

Mentioned for Head of Ticket.

A vigorous movement in behalf of Professor Charles S. Scanlon, of Pittsburg, for the presidential nomination is the latest development. Professor Scanlon is the field representative of the temperance society of the Presbyterian church. He led the fight against the indorsement of the Anti-Saloon League at the meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly, in this city, a year ago. Other candidates for first place, whose names are receiving consideration, are F. F. Wheeler, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Daniel R. Sheen, of Peoria, Ill.; Alfred Mannierre, of New York, and Joseph P. Tracey, of Detroit. Others in the race are George R. Stewart, of Tennessee; Rev. A. B. Leonard, secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. J. D. Cranfill, of Dallas, Tex., and Rev. H. W. Palmore, of St. Louis.

Some of the Indiana delegates, who want to go outside the party for the nomination, advanced the somewhat startling proposition to nominate Governor Hanly, of Indiana, for president. He would be acceptable to the prohibitionists, although a republican. Others want to nominate Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, and others are talking of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield,

LABOR'S VOTE WILL BE CAST FOR W. J. BRYAN

Samuel Gompers, President of Federation, Pledges Support to Democrat.

CAMPAU AND LAMB LEAD FOR HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Members of the National Committee Will Visit Bryan Today and Choice of Campaign Manager Will Be Made.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and inferentially the head of three million voters of organized labor, affiliated with the federation, will support W. J. Bryan in the coming campaign.

In political circles here today, this announcement overshadowed all others, even the arrival of John W. Kern, the vice presidential nominee. Reports gained currency that the labor leader would speak from the platform during the campaign, but he made no such announcement. At present it is believed there is no need for Mr. Gompers' services in an oratorical sense. The republican convention, he asserts, ignored the demands of labor, the democrats acknowledging them in their platform. His course is clear; he will do what is demanded of him in the interest of labor best expressed in the platform adopted at Denver. As the situation is at present, Mr. Gompers' efforts can be better expended elsewhere than on the speakers' stand.

In his interview with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Gompers was attended by Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, and James Duncan, also a labor leader.

"There's the Vice President."

The representatives of labor and Vice Presidential Nominee Kern and party reached "Bryan Station" by the trolley car. Mr. Bryan, in his fedora hat and alpaca coat, was there to greet them.

"Ah, there is the vice president," observed the leader of the ticket, smiling and extending his hand.

What Mr. Kern said in reply was lost in the confusion, but his smile was assuring, as he shook hands vigorously with the standard bearer of his party.

The presidential and vice presidential nominees, arm in arm, led the way to the Bryan home, followed by Abram Simmons, delegate-at-large to the convention; John E. Osborne, member of the state central committee of Indiana, and U. S. Jackson, chairman of that committee.

Mr. Jackson, after talking with Mr. Bryan, declared that Indiana would go for Bryan by 10,000 votes. He based his prediction on a canvass, which, he said, he had been making since the middle of January. He anticipated the enrollment of many Roosevelt republicans on the Bryan list.

Mr. Bryan told his visitors that it had been reported he would make a front porch campaign; he was by no means certain of this, but admitted that he had promised to make a speech in Chicago on Labor day. Aside from this date, the candidate had made no plans.

Chairman of National Committee.

FLAMES CAUSE $50,000 LOSS NEAR ORPHEUM

The second fire started near the corner of Bartow and Marietta, and swept onward towards Springs, and jam up against the theater its progress was stopped.

However, the Orpheum had its taste of fire, for the firemen dragged their hose through the building in order to fight the blaze.

FIRE ALARM TURNED IN BY CHIEF W. B. CUMMINGS

The fire alarm was turned in by Chief Cummings. Hearing the whistles blowing, he hurried to the scene and turned in the alarm rom the corner of Bartow and Marietta streets.

"The value of the property destroyed," said the chief, as he looked upon the fading, dying out embers, "will approximate $50,000. I base that estimate upon what I have been told there was in the places. The box factory, owned by the Wellhouses, did not consist wholly and entirely of boxes—the made-up stock of the firm—but under that roof there was an abundance of paper. The company carried a neat insurance.

NIGHT WATCHMAN MORRIS MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS

W. M. Morris, the night watchman for the Atlanta Box Factory, up to an early hour this morning, had not been seen, and it was rumored that he had lost his life in the flames.

Mrs. Morris, as soon as she learned that it was the building over which her husband kept watch that was burning, hastened to the scene, and assisted by scores of willing hands, made a thorough search for him. He had been in the rear of the buildings with the railroad employees when last seen, and in the excitement was lost.

The city police are making a thorough investigation as to his whereabouts, and all the burned portion was searched for his body, but without result.

CAMELS MARCH WITH SHRINERS

Fifth Annual Conclave of Arabic Order Meets at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., July 13.—This has been a day of parades and of music in St. Paul, and tonight the gaily lighted streets are crowded with thousands of visitors who have come to attend the thirty-fifth annual conclave of the ancient Arabic order of the Mystic Shrine.

Though the formal opening of the conclave does not take place until tomorrow, yet the social and entertainment features were in full swing today.

The feature of the afternoon entertainment was a parade and review of Fort Snelling, in which the entire garrison took part.

Thirty-five Arab patrols, twice as many as ever before attended a conclave, will be in St. Paul during the week. Most of these have already arrived, and they spent the day marching through the downtown streets.

The only two camels owned by a Shrine were brought in today with Molla Temple, St. Joseph, Mo.

The first session of the imperial council will take place tomorrow morning.

The culminating event of the week will occur tomorrow night, when the electrical parade will start from the new capitol at 9 o'clock, and march through streets that are festooned with 25,000 electric lights.

TENSION IS DRAWN TIGHTER.

Preparations Being Made for Possible Clash in Miners' Strike.

Birmingham, Ala., July 13.—All coal companies operated by furnace companies and commercial companies in Alabama who have not been recognizing the unions, started up as usual today, and if there is any shortage of men at work it is not to be noticed as yet from the outside. The leaders of the miners claim that there will hardly be any production for the day, and that more men are joining the ranks of the union daily.

It was given out at the headquarters of the miners that by the end of the week the supply of coal will have been cut down so that blast iron furnaces may have to bank fires. This is denied in operators' offices. Sheriff Higdon has appointed another batch of deputies for work in the field as a precautionary movement. Many rumors have prevailed during the past few days of violence, but nothing definite has happened. The tension, however, is being drawn tighter, say the county officials, and preparations are being made for any emergency.

BETTER TIMES FOR RAILROADS

Indications Are That Transportation Business Is Becoming Normal.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 13.—Indications are multiplying in all branches of trade that a return of normal business conditions is rapidly approaching. Railroad managers, especially, report a decided improvement, and a sharp demand for cars for the transportation of all classes of freight, with the possible exception of steel and iron.

A prominent railway official said today that while this branch of business continued far below normal, it no doubt largely resulted from the fact that the railway companies, themselves, were not buying material. This state of affairs, however, he added, could not possibly continue much longer, and the railroads would shortly be compelled to go into the market, and when they did so, the demand would be sudden, as well as heavy.

Grand Chief Engineer Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said today that his reports showed decided business improvements on the railroads throughout the country. Repair shop forces, he added, had been put on full time on practically all of the railroads, both east and west, and many engineers, who have been idle, are now returning to work. Mr. Stone declared the business outlook to be exceedingly promising.

YOUNG MAN BADLY STABBED.

Two Young Men Have Fight Which May End Fatally.

Statesboro, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Joe Stubbs and Dave Wilson, two young men, engaged in a fight near Adabelle, in the lower part of this county. Wilson used a knife on Stubbs while he attempted to use a pistol on Wilson. Stubbs dropped his pistol and was cut in eight different places, a wound in the abdomen is feared will result fatally.

Sheriff Kendricks placed Dave Wilson and his brother, John, in the county jail at this place. They will be given a preliminary trial as soon as Stubbs' condition will permit.

Half a Block of Stores Burned.

Birmingham, Ala., July 13.—Fire destroyed half a block of stores at Goodwater, Ala., Sunday, doing damage to about $25,000 worth of property. Insurance to half the amount of loss is carried. The blaze started in the jewelry establishment of L. A. Grogan. The merchants affected managed to get out most of their stocks, which accounts for the small loss.

TAFT'S VIEWS ON INJUNCTION

He Will Declare His Position in Forceful Terms.

WORKING ON HIS SPEECH

Hot Springs, Va., July 13.—Beginning the work of writing his speech of acceptance of the presidential nomination to be delivered in Cincinnati on July 28, Judge William H. Taft today made a careful study and comparison of the democratic and republican platforms, adopted by the recent conventions. He has at his command copies of speeches of acceptance of candidates of both parties of recent years, and within a day or two he will receive copies of the platforms of both parties for many years. Mr. Taft is handling this task as a judge on the bench would hear a case. He is looking through all the documents bearing on the subject and before concluding his work he will have the views of many leaders of the party on the draft of the document.

Of all the planks in the platform, that relating to injunctions is probably the one that will receive most attention. So much has been said on this subject, criticism from democratic sources having been made on his record while on the bench in respect to the process of the injunction and the two parties having adopted planks on that subject which are likely to play an important part in the campaign, Mr. Taft will declare this position on this important question in forceful and unmistakable terms.

Senator Warner's notification speech will be so brief that it will not require over ten minutes in its delivery. The speech of acceptance also will be short. The letter of acceptance will treat public questions at greater length and will not be forthcoming for several weeks after the ceremony of notifying the candidate has taken place.

Mr. Taft today began his day's work by looking over his mail and dictating a few letters, after which he went to the golf links. Even with the necessity of finishing the pressing task before him, he does not intend to set aside his favorite game.

"I will play golf every day," he said as he started out this morning, "just as I would take medicine."

He had an expert player against whom to contest in the person of George Ingalls, son of M. E. Ingalls, whose cottage faces the Homestead.

All five visiting statesmen have left for their homes and today there were no conferences to interrupt Mr. Taft in his work. He has invited no one here this week, except Arthur I. Vorys, of Ohio, who will be in charge of the campaign in Ohio. A delegation to ask Judge Taft to be present at the dedication of the new court house at Germantown, five miles from Hot Springs, came here today, and Mr. Taft accepted the invitation. He said he would not make a political speech, but that he would possibly talk about the administration of justice. The dedication will take place next Monday.

BIRTH OF BABY ON CAR BLOCKS ALL TRAFFIC.

Chicago, July 13.—Street car traffic in Washington street was brought to a standstill for half an hour today when Mrs. John Ruloff, a passenger on an Armitage avenue car, while passing the city hall, gave birth to a girl baby. The woman was on the way to a hospital, accompanied by a nurse. Dr. I. G. Rawlins, a physician attached to the city health department, was called, and later mother and child were taken in a police ambulance to the hospital.

SHOT BY WOMAN HE MADE WIDOW

Dr. Simpson Is Mortally Wounded by Mother-in-Law.

WIFE SPURNS WOUNDED MAN

When Mrs. Simpson Learned Husband Had Been Shot She Refused to Go Near Him and He Had to Crawl for Help.

Northport, N. Y., July 13.—Standing within a few feet of the spot where, a little more than two years ago, he shot and killed his aged father-in-law, Dr. James Weddell Simpson, a dentist of New York, was shot and perhaps mortally wounded today by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bartley T. Horner, the woman he made a widow.

Dr. Simpson's wife, from whom he has been estranged for many months, was near when the shot was fired, but she did not witness the shooting. Upon learning that it was her husband who had been wounded, she refused to go near him, and Dr. Simpson had to crawl to a house 200 feet away to have his wound attended to.

Mrs. Horner was later arrested and held in $5,000 bail, while Dr. Simpson, with the assistance of two friends, made his way to Roosevelt hospital, New York. The bullet lodged in his body, and an immediate operation was performed to take the bullet out. The doctors said tonight that Dr. Simpson has only a small chance of recovering.

How the Tragedy Occured.

Statements from Dr. Simpson and from Mrs. Horner as to the circumstances attending the shooting disagree. The dentist says that he had received word that his wife intended to sue him for a divorce, and that he went to the Horner home to talk with her about it. He says he rang the door bell, and upon receiving no response, peered through the door pane. He saw Mrs. Horner, he says, and called to her to open the door. Then, Dr. Simpson says, Mrs. Horner grabbed up a revolver and shot him. The bullet entered his body above the abdomen, and he fell back against the door sill. A second shot was fired at him, he claims, but the bullet went wild.

Mrs. Horner does not deny that she did the shooting, but she claims justification. Through her lawyer, Rowland Miles, she said that Dr. Simpson had several times called at the house and that his visits were unwelcome. When he came today, she says, she ordered him away, and when he refused to go, she took up a revolver and shot at him.

Woman Released on Bail.

Mrs. Horner was charged with felonious assault. After Justice Hawkins had fixed bail at $5,000, Mrs. Simpson, the prisoner's daughter, qualified as bondsman and secured the release of her mother. Justice Hawkins set the hearing for next Wednesday.

This second tragedy at the Horner homestead is only another chapter in a series of unhappy domestic events of the last few years. The shooting of Bartley T. Horner by Dr. Simpson aroused the countryside in December, 1905, and when the dentist was put on trial his wife took the witness stand against him. Mrs. Horner also gave damaging testimony against her son-in-law. Dr. Simpson was going through the manual of arms with a shotgun when he accidentally shot his father-in-law.

After the verdict of acquittal Dr. Simpson resumed the practice of dentistry. He opened a suite of offices on Fifth avenue, New York, but he had lost many of his clients, and of late, it is said, he has sought financial aid.

Atlanta Preacher Will Fill Pulpit of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church Three Sundays.

Dr. John White, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Atlanta, has received and accepted an invitation from the pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, in Cleveland, at which John D. Rockefeller worships, to fill the pulpit there for three Sundays, beginning the last Sunday of this month.

With the letter from the pastor came one from Mr. Rockefeller adding his request and inviting Dr. White to make a visit to his home. Dr. White declares that he will give Mr. Rockefeller straightforward truths, the kind he gives his own people, and adds that this is the kind the oil king wants, in his opinion.

WHO WILL HEAD PROHI TICKET?

Strong Sentiment in Favor of Wright, of Georgia.

Chairman Peake in Opening Convention Assailed Women and Churches for Their Lack of Interest in the Prohibition Movement.

Columbus, Ohio, July 13.—A platform of one plank, confined to the single issue of prohibition, is the object of a move started at the opening session of the state prohibition convention this afternoon by Temperory Chairman H. L. Peake, of Sandusky, and the struggle will be carried to the national prohibition convention on Wednesday.

Mr. Peake, in an address which consumed more than two hours, assailed female suffrage, which has come to be regarded as an established tenet of the prohibition party, declaring that women drink more and men less than they did a decade ago, and that the weakest laws regulating the liquor traffic are in the woman suffrage states of Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming.

He assailed the indifference of the churches to the prohibition movement, criticized the Anti-Saloon League, and praised George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, for refusing to credit any votes to temperance that were not cast for prohibition tickets.

Many White-Haired Men.

Bearded and white-haired men were in a majority among the delegates, and a dozen women enrolled as alternates. The convention was opened by the singing of "America." Rev. W. F. McCaul, of Cincinnati, offered prayer, and Professor J. W. Holtonf of Oberlin, sang "The World is Moving On."

In response to the question "How many of those present voted for the first prohibition candidate for president, John P. St. John," forty hands were raised.

The various committees selected at the district meetings were announced, and the convention adjourned until evening.

Contrary to expectations, it is said today by prominent delegates to the national prohibition convention, there will not be a bitter fight over indorsement of the Anti-Saloon League by the convention here this week. The sentiment of the men directing affairs in the party is epitomized by National Chairman Charles R. Jones, of Chicago, who said today:

"No delegate will have the temerity to introduce a resolution indorsing the Anti-Saloon League. The sentiment of the convention is against it. There will be no fight on this proposition."

On the other hand, some of the anti-saloon men insist that they will bring the question to the attention of the convention.

The national prohibition convention will convene in Memorial hall on Wednesday, the executive committee meeting on Tuesday to select the temporary officers.

The fight for the nomination for president started today in earnest when many of the delegates began coming in. Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, has been prominently mentioned.

Mentioned for Head of Ticket.

A vigorous movement in behalf of Professor Charles S. Scanlon, of Pittsburg, for the presidential nomination is the latest development. Professor Scanlon is the field representative of the temperance society of the Presbyterian church. He led the fight against the indorsement of the Anti-Saloon League at the meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly, in this city, a year ago. Other candidates for first place, whose names are receiving consideration, are F. F. Wheeler, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Daniel R. Sheen, of Peoria, Ill.; Alfred Mannierre, of New York, and Joseph P. Tracey, of Detroit. Others in the race are George R. Stewart, of Tennessee; Rev. A. B. Leonard, secretary of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. J. D. Crantill, of Dallas, Tex., and Rev. H. W. Palmore, of St. Louis.

Some of the Indiana delegates, who want to go outside the party for the nomination, advanced the somewhat startling proposition to nominate Governor Hanly, of Indiana, for president. He would be acceptable to the prohibitionists, although a republican. Others want to nominate Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, and others are talking of Congressman Charles E. Littlefield.

LABOR'S VOTE WILL BE CAST FOR W. J. BRYAN

Samuel Gompers, President of Federation, Pledges Support to Democrat.

CAMPAU AND LAMB LEAD FOR HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Members of the National Committee Will Visit Bryan Today and Choice of Campaign Manager Will Be Made.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 13.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and inferentially the head of three million voters of organized labor, affiliated with the federation, will support W. J. Bryan in the coming campaign.

In political circles here today, this announcement overshadowed all others, even the arrival of John W. Kern, the vice presidential nominee. Reports gained currency that the labor leader would speak from the platform during the campaign, but he made no such announcement. At present it is believed there is no need for Mr. Gompers' services in an oratorical sense. The republican convention, he asserts, ignored the demands of labor, the democrats acknowledging them in their platform. His course is clear; he will do what is demanded of him in the interest of labor best expressed in the platform adopted at Denver. As the situation is at present, Mr. Gompers' efforts can be better expended elsewhere than on the speakers' stand.

In his interview with Mr. Bryan, Mr. Gompers was attended by Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation, and James Duncan, also a labor leader.

"There's the Vice President."

The representatives of labor and Vice Presidential Nominee Kern and party reached "Bryan Station" by the trolley car. Mr. Bryan, in his fedora hat and alpaca coat, was there to greet them.

"Ah, there is the vice president," observed the leader of the ticket, smiling and extending his hand.

What Mr. Kern said in reply was lost in the confusion, but his smile was assuring, as he shook hands vigorously with the standard bearer of his party.

The presidential and vice presidential nominees, arm in arm, led the way to the Bryan home, followed by Abram Simmons, delegate-at-large to the convention; John E. Osborne, member of the state central committee of Indiana, and U. S. Jackson, chairman of that committee.

Mr. Jackson, after talking with Mr. Bryan, declared that Indiana would go for Bryan by 10,000 votes. He based his prediction on a canvass, which, he said, he had been making since the middle of January. He anticipated the enrollment of many Roosevelt republicans on the Bryan list.

Mr. Bryan told his visitors that it had been reported he would make a front porch campaign; he was by no means certain of this, but admitted that he had promised to make a speech in Chicago on Labor day. Aside from this date, the candidate had made no plans.

Chairman of National Committee.

Interest today naturally centered in the visit here tomorrow of members of the new committee. Dr. Hall, national committeeman from Nebraska, yesterday stated that the chairmanship of the committee lay among James, of Kentucky; Campau, of Michigan; Lamb, of Indiana, and Atwood, of Kansas. Today speculation on the subject had narrowed to Campau and James, to the latter largely because Mr. Bryan had expressed such great admiration of his political and intellectual qualities, and Campau because of his admitted business ability.

David R Francis is out of it by his own plea that, though stories of his connection with Standard Oil were untrue, the libels were sufficient to prevent his running for any office. Tom L. Johnson has been eliminated, it is said, by his flat refusal to occupy any office where he might be asked for legislative favors in exchange for campaign contributions. Mr. Johnson has admitted Wall street connections, but none with whom he would care to mix politically.

Campau or Lamb.

Current gossip tonight has narrowed the contest to Campau, of Michigan, and Lamb, of Indiana. Neither has expressed himself as desiring the position, but neither has denied ambition in that direction. Campau has been defeated for the national committeeship from the Wolverine state, but his business ability is undisputed. Lamb is credited with marked influence in his home state, and the peculiar abilities which make for a successful campaign manager. Thus it is on the eve of the meeting of the national committee with Mr. Bryan tomorrow.

Mr. Bryan does not desire to name the chairman himself, but the absence of the initiative on the part of his supporters probably will compel him in the end to name the man.

Bryan Likes Ollie James.

No man in America is more admired by Mr. Bryan than Mr. Ollie James, of Kentucky, yet Mr. James, in all probability, will not be named as chairman of the national committee, for he himself has denied any of the requisites which make for a successful campaign manager. On the other hand, Mr. Campau is recognized as having all the qualifications of the manager of political warfare. Mr. Campau is not an orator of noted attainments, but he is a business man whose merits have not yet been attacked.

Thus the situation stands with not a few believing that a dark horse will be named before the national committee adjourns from Fairview.

Committee Leaves to Visit Bryan.

Denver, Col., July 13.—Most of the members of the new democratic national committee left here at 5 p. m. this afternoon over the Rock Island for Lincoln, where they will hold a conference with W. J. Bryan regarding the selection of a chairman and other matters connected with the organization. It is believed among the committeemen that the chairman will be chosen from the following list:

John H. Atwood of Kansas, Daniel J. Campau of Michigan, Ollie James of Kentucky, and John E. Lamb of Indiana. Included in the party which left for Lincoln were Chairman Thomas Taggart, Urey Woodson, Colonel John I. Martin, sergeant-at-arms, and Colonel R. M. Johnston, of Texas.

MURPHY SAYS OUTLOOK IS GOOD FOR DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

New York, July 13.—Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, and several of his personal following arrived in New York on their return from the democratic convention at Denver. Mr. Murphy says he believes the democratic national ticket has a good chance of carrying New York state this year.

"Everything in this state is harmonious now," he said. "The upper state leaders with whom I have talked since leaving for the west seem to think the outlook in their districts is very bright. I am sure that the states in the middle west can be relied upon, too, for Bryan and Kern."

Mr. Murphy would not discuss the handshaking episode at Lincoln when he was met at the railway station by the democratic candidate for the presidency.

Martin W. Littleton was quite willing to discuss the meeting, however.

"It was a very cordial greeting," he said, with an expansive smile.

"On both sides?"

"Cordial on both sides."

NO FIREWORKS ON FOURTH.

Private Celebrations to Be Barred by Cleveland.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 13.—By a vote of 21 to 17 the city council tonight passed an ordinance decreeing that henceforth no private celebration of the Fourth of July by the use of firearms or fireworks shall occur. The council, however, reserved the right to permit the city to give an "official display" in the public parks if it so desired. The ordinance was the result of the death of ten persons in this year's Independence day observance.

FLAMES SHOOT 1,500 FEET IN AIR

Great Oil Lake in Mexico Is Still Burning.

New Orleans, July 13.—Although confirming statements about the spectacular and awe-inspiring nature of the Mexican oil fields fire, Captain T. L. Ravn, of the steamship City of Mexico, from Tampico, today said that the gigantic fire between Tampico and Tuxpan, Mexico, is endangering little of the country except in the immediate vicinity of the blaze. He said there are no terror-stricken people, and no cities endangered, especially not Tampico.

Instead of the "burning lake" being 5 miles from Tampico, the captain said it is about 60 miles southeast of that point. The fire is 17 miles inland.

Captain Ravn also said that no lake is on fire, but that it is merely a huge oil well that is blazing.

"The people there are paying no attention to the fire," the captain said, "except to gaze at it as they would any other spectacular sight. Tampico is not filled with smoke."

The blaze started, Captain Ravn said, from the caving of the foundation of an engine house near the well. It is visible at night 60 miles out at sea. It is certain that the flames are 1,500 feet high.

was partially destroyed, and the mules run out just in time.

At 11:30 o'clock the main structure of the Atlanta Box Factory fell in with a crash, and the force of the fire was thereafter weakened.

The J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company lost three road rollers and a quantity of machinery stationed on the railroad platform, the value of which was $500. As the flames reached the rollers the boilers exploded with loud noises. Other explosions are supposed to have issued from the several box cars near on a spur track leading to the burning building.

Employees Out of Work.

In the Atlanta Box Factory were employed between seventy-five and a hundred white girls, who will be thrown out of employment. Paul A. Clement, the secretary of the company, in a statement given this morning, said that the company was fully insured, and that immediate preparations would be made to secure new headquarters, and that practically no time would be lost. The old employees will, of course, be retained.

MRS. GOULD IN A WRECK.

She Narrowly Escapes Death in Auto Collision.

New York, July 13.—While returning from the railroad station to her summer residence at Greenwich, Conn., tonight, Mrs. Frank Gould narrowly escaped serious injury when her automobile collided with a racing machine speeding around a curve into the main thoroughfare. Her chaffeur locked the car's wheels, and the oncoming car impaled itself on the forward part of the Gould machine. Both cars were badly wrecked. Mrs. Gould was tumbled from her seat, but remained in the car, and beyond suffering slightly from the shock, was not injured.

DEATH COMES TO DR. WATSON

For Fifteen Years He Was Proprietor of the Pansy Pharmacy.

Dr. R. F. Watson, for fifteen years the proprietor of the Pansy Pharmacy, situated at the corner of Houston and Hilliard streets, died last night at 8 o'clock at his residence, 85 Angier avenue. He moved to Florida about a year and a half before his death, and returning to Atlanta, engaged in the grocery business. He was taken sick several weeks ago.

Dr. Watson was 65 years of age, and is survived by his wife and one son. The funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

THE TAYLORS SURRENDER

Will Probably Be Tried at Present Session of Tift Court.

Tifton, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Dempsey and Jesse Taylor, who shot and killed A. Conger, and wounded his boys, Abe and Barney, at Salem church, on Sunday, July 5, and against whom bills of indictment were returned by the grand jury at superior court last week, came in yesterday and surrendered to the sheriff. It is probable that their trial will be held during the criminal week of Tift superior court, which is now in session.

Judge Robert G. Mitchell organized the criminal term of Tift superior court this morning, with two extra panels of tales jurors. There are no cases of unusual interest to be tried, except that of the Taylors, charged with the killing of A. Conger.

S.S.S. MAKES A LASTING CURE

There are certain mineral medicines which will remove the external symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, and shut the disease up in the system for awhile, but when the treatment is left off the disease will surely return. Then the loathsome symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc., are usually worse because the disease has made rapid progress on the internal members, and weakened the constitution and general health of the sufferer. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can be used with perfect safety in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, and with the assurance that a lasting cure will result. This medicine, made entirely of roots and herbs of recognized curative and tonic value, antidotes and destroys the powerful virus of the disease, and by purifying the blood of every particle of the poison and enriching and strengthening the circulation, removes every symptom of the trouble. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up the disease in any way, but drives it entirely out from the blood, leaving not the slightest trace for future outbreaks. UNITED STATES RACES NORTH

While Great Britain Races South, The British Antarctic Explorers Started First, but Peary Hopes to Win Race for the United States.

New York, July 13.—When Commander Robert E. Peary boards his steamer Roosevelt at Sydney, Cape Breton, this week and starts on his expedition in search of the north pole, an international race to the uttermost ends of the earth will be on.

Peary hopes to carry the Stars and Stripes to the north pole, while a British Antarctic expedition, commanded by Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, is trying to place the union jack of the British empire at 90 degrees south. Although the British expedition has a year handicap in point of time, Peary hopes to win the race. Lieutenant Shackleton and party left London on July 30, 1907, on board the Nimrod, originally a Newfoundland sealing vessel, of 227 tons, but which has been refitted as a steam barkentine.

Shackleton is an officer of the British navy and before leaving London, King Edward bestowed upon him the Victorian Order. He was a member of the British Antarctic expedition of 1902-03 under Captain Scott, and with his commander and another member of the party accomplished a sledge journey with dogs to a point 82 degrees 17 minutes south latitude, during which they were absent from their ship, the Discovery, ninety-three days, and covered a distance of 960 miles. Peary reached a point 87 degrees 6 mintes north on April 21, 1906.

At the Foot of Mount Erebus.

The Nimrod's crew, all told, numbered thirty-two men, including several scientists, but the landing party was to consist of but twelve men. The barkentine sailed early in January from New Zealand and returned in March, having left the Shackleton party encamped at the foot of Mount Erebus. The party took with them materials for wooden buildings with double doors and windows to be lined with felt and several inches of granulated cork. Provisions and supplies for a long stay were landed. The Nimrod brought back to New Zealand a tale of dissension in the party which resulted in the resignation of Captain England, the Nimrod's skipper, and the ship, therefore, will return to the little band in 1910 without him.

Shackleton took with him a specially built motor sledge which he hoped to use in his polar dash, and a number of Siberian ponies, in addition to a pack of dogs. Peary will use only Eskimos and dogs. The boxes containing the supplies aboard the Roosevelt were so designed as to make possible the construction of a house out of them at Cape Sheridan. The structure will be about 20 by 60 feet, and when built will be covered with the Roosevelt's main sail, and that in turn covered with snow. Peary plans to make his dash to the pole from his base of supplies in February next year and hopes to return to the United States some time in October.

Flags to Hoist on the Pole.

Before leaving London, Lieutenant Shackleton was presented by Queen Alexandra with a British flag to carry with him on his southern dash. About the same time the Daughters of the American Revolution gave Commander Peary a beautiful peace flag, made of silk, and consisting of the Stars and Stripes, surrounded by a broad field of white, to carry with him to the north pole. On the day the Roosevelt left New York, William O. McDowell, the founder of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, handed Peary a leter from Emily R. Ritchie McLean, president general of the society, in which she said:

"May marvelous discovery await you and a safe return to the proud and welcoming embrace of your country. We trust that the flag we have presented to you may be your shield and buckler against all disaster and may be the glory and the lustres of the patriotic triumph we expect you to achieve."

The flag occupies a prominent place on the wall of Peary's cabin on the Roosevelt. Peary also took with him the flag which he carried farthest north in 1906; a Delta Kappa alumni flag, a Princeton banner and several smaller emblems.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED.

Against Homer L. Castle and His Associates.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 13.—True bills of indictment, charging conspiracy in making, printing ad circulating false financial statements of the Standard Title and Trust Company of this city, were returned by the grand jury here today against Homer L. Castle, of Pittsburg, a former prohibition candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, and his associates in the promotion of the trust company, which never opened for business.

Those indicted with Castle are Charles Hunter, Philadelphia; D. C. Massington, of Collingswood, N. J.; Arthur F. Williams, Chicago, and H. F. Aspinwall, of Freeport, Ill.

The jury also returned indictments against Henry Cohen, of New York, and Colonel S. H. Ford and H. M. Ralston, of Chicago, on charges of conspiracy in other alleged misrepresentations of the trust company's financial condition.

It is claimed by stockholders that about $20,000 is due them for money paid in, and the indictments are the result of an effort, made through the receivers, to recover that amount from the promoters.

Dr. Scherer Has Resigned.

Columbia, S. C., July 13.—Dr. James A. B. Scherer, president of Newberry college, at Newberry, S. C., today handed in his resignation to the board of trustees of that institution, to take effect October 1.

Dr. Scherer leaves Newberry to become president of Throop Institute, at Pasadena, Cal. He is regarded as one of the most able educators in South Carolina.

NO HAND LIFTED TO SAVE.

Over One Thousand Persons Coolly Watch Woman Drown.

Chicago, July 13.—While 200 men and boys sat or stood within a comparatively few feet of her and in sight of nearly 1,000 others, an unidentified woman fell, or rolled purposely from the north pier at the mouth of the Chicago river yesterday, and drowned. Although she screamed repeatedly for assistance, not a hand in the crowd that watched her struggles in the water was lifted to save her. Instead, one of the gazers stole the woman's purse and hat, which she had placed on the pier beside her, and fled.

A half hour later the body was taken from the water by Captain Carland and his men from the life saving station.

The body was neatly dressed. The woman apparently was thirty-five years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, with dark brown hair and hazel eyes, and weighed 105 pounds.

GUFFEY CROWD ROCKED.

Beaten Pennsylvania Delegates Attacked at St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 13.—The train bearing the Pennsylvania delegation home from the Denver convention was attacked by thugs as it was entering St. Louis yesterday. On the side of the special car was a streamer announcing that the car contained the Pennsylvania delegation.

The train was running at high speed, when suddenly there was a fusillade of stones, bricks and bullets.

William Shultz, O. E. Maxwell and J. F. Curran, of Washington, Pa., seated together on one side of the car, were cut by flying glass, but escaped the stones and bullets.

Colonel James M. Guffey was seated in the forward end of the car and escaped injury. Since leaving Denver, Colonel Guffey has been ill as a result of the heat. At Sedalia, Mo., the train was held while a physician came aboard and attended Mr. Guffey.

DIFFERENT NOW

Athlete Finds Better Training Food.

It was formerly the belief that to become strong, athletes must eat plenty of meat.

This is all out of date now, and many trainers feed athletes on the well-known food, Grape-Nuts, made of wheat and barley, and cut the meat down to a small portion, once a day.

"Three years ago," writes a Mich. man, "having become interested in athletics, I found I would have to stop eating pastry and some other kinds of food.

"I got some Grape-Nuts and was soon eating the food at every meal, for I found that when I went on the track, I felt more lively and active.

"Later, I began also to drink Postum in place of coffee and the way I gained muscle and strength on this diet was certainly great. On the day of a field meet in June I weighed 124 lbs. On the opening of the football season in Sept., I weighed 140. I attributed my fine condition and good work to the discontinuation of improper food and coffee, and the using of Grape-Nuts and Postum, my principal diet during training season being Grape-Nuts.

"Before I used Grape-Nuts I never felt right in the morning—always kind of 'out of sorts' with my stomach. But now when I rise I feel good, and after a breakfast largely of Grape-Nuts with cream, and a cup of Postum, I feel like a new man." "There's a Reason."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LEFT ASYLUM; WAS ARRESTED

Officers Waited Around Asylum Gates Until Scudamore Walked Out.

Pensaloca, Fla., July 13.—G. C. Scudamore, former cashier of the Pensacola Bank and Trust Company, and charged with embezzling large sums of money from that institution, was brought here today and placed in the county jail, being arrested by a deputy as he walked from the grounds of the Florida Insane asylum at Chattahoochee. He will be arraigned for trial at an early date.

Scudamore, when arrested months ago on the charge of embezzling, set up the plea of insanity, and after many commissions had passed on him, he was declared to be insane and committed to the asylum.

The authorities there recently decided that he was sane, and set a date upon which to liberate him. When officers went there they refused to turn over the man or to allow his arrest on the asylum grounds, so the officers were compelled to wait around the gates until Scudamore walked through the gate to make the arrest.

WHO WILL HEAD PROHI TICKET?

of Maine, who supported the bill to prohibit the transportation of liquor in interstate commerce under certain conditions.

The national committee has in its war chest $30,000, and contributions are coming in very fast, especially from the south. The largest vote polled by the prohibitionists was in 1892, when their candidates secured a total vote of 209,469.

Chairman Jones estimated today that the vote will pass this high-water mark this year, because of the marked increase in prohibition territory, especially in the south. He estimates that the number of people embraced in prohibition territory has grown since the last national election from 20,000,000 to 40,000,000. There are 1,519 delegates.

Strong Sentiment for Wright.

All candidates for president before the prohibition convention are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Alonzo E. Wilson, of Chicago, chairman of the prohibition executive committee of Illinois, who is expected to bring some word as to whether Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, for years a member of the Georgia legislature, will accept the prohibition nomination for the presidency.

It commences to look as though even the instructed delegates may break away from their favorite sons if Wright can be induced to accept, or if some other strong southern man is found who will make the race as the head of the ticket.

Chairman Wilson, of Illinois, has been back of the Wright movement and has had numerous conferences with the Georgia democrat. The race question is up in Wright's mind and the last word from him made public is that he has not decided what he will do. He fears that if the democrats of the south desert the democratic party to vote with the prohibitionists, the republicans of the south, united with the colored vote, might win, hence the arising of the great southern bugaboo of "negro domination."

Why Wright Is in Doubt.

Chicago, July 13.—Chairman Wilson, of the prohibition executive committee of Illinois, said this afternoon that the attitude of Mr. Wright of Georgia toward the presidential candidacy is one of uncertainty, and that he is in doubt as to whether he ought to accept if the nomination is tendered him.

"At present," Mr. Wilson said, "Mr. Wright's judgment is against the propriety of his accepting. The only point in the way of his doing so seems to be the prohibition laws of Georgia. He fears that if he should become a candidate they might try to repeal that law. Notwithstanding this, I think that if he is urged strongly he would accept under pressure."

Mr. Wilson and the delegates from a dozen northwestern states will leave tonight in a special train over the Pennsylvania for Columbus.

SEABORN WRIGHT'S ATTITUDE TOWARDS PROHI NOMINATION

Seaborn Wright, in a statement given out last night, says that he cannot accept the nomination should it be given him. Mr. Wright's statement follows:

"In a conference recently with Chairmen Jones and Wilson I told them I could not accept a nomination for president by the prohibition party. The question of 'negro domination' was not in my mind. I have no fear of this in the south.

"It is the fear of 'liquor domination' in the democratic party in the south. If I should go out of the democratic party to accept the nomination for president, and carry with me any considerable number of southern democrats, it would turn the dominant democratic party in the south over to the liquor element in the party, resulting in a repeal of the prohibition legislation secured already in the south through the democratic party.

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with the high aims of the prohibition party. I am not insensible to the great honor of a nomination for president at their hands, and nothing on earth would give me more pleasure than to speak on this vital question to the people of the country, from the commanding position of a candidate for president.

"The one overshadowing question before the American people today is a clean, intelligent citizenship. If the American saloon is not destroyed, it will eventually destroy this republic through the corruption of the people, especially in our great cities. The temperance question today is not so much the right of the individual to drink as the right of the dominant liquor interest to destroy the citizenship upon which this republic is bottomed."

Gale Sends Fishermen to Death.

Santander, Spain, July 13.—Heavy gales have caused havoc among the fishing fleets along the coast. Three fishing vessels are reported wrecked, and more than thirty of the men drowned. No word has been received of a number of boats that have been out for a considerable length of time.

TALK OF BRIDGES SMITH.

Already Much Discussion of Next Macon Mayoralty Race.

Macon, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—There is much talk of Bridges Smith as a candidate for the next mayor of Macon. He will say nothing of his purposes this early, but his friends declare that he is going to be a candidate next time. He is working away at present as a newspaper man, with bright hopes of the future, his present calling throwing him among the people of the city on all sides.

The man who has an experience in public affairs loses no time in such a position, and Bridges Smith for mayor next time is no unfamiliar sentiment or unheard of political chat as far as the gossip of Macon streets is concerned. There are two other men popularly mentioned for the race next time, both Jesse B. Hart and John T. Moore are so strongly in sympathy with the Smith movement that they have no idea of opposing him when the time comes to start after the municipal affairs in the next election.

Whether the administration this time will make an effort to run a ticket next time is not made known. No talk of plans is being dropped on the streets and no one on the outside could state definitely.

HON. WALTER R. BROWN, A WIDELY-known member of the Atlanta bar, left yesterday for New York. Mr. Brown goes to the metropolis for the purpose of examining and inspecting titles to some valuable property on Long Island, in which a family of young Atlantans has an interest.

SPECIAL MASTER E. F. CALLAWAY submitted a report in the Seaboard Air Line case yesterday to Judge Don A. Pardee, of the United States court, fifth judicial district, recommending the payment of a small bill, amounting to a fraction less than $400. The payment was authorized by Judge Pardee.

English, known in newspaper circles as "Johnny" English, news editor of the Associated Press in Chicago for fifteen years, died of heart disease a short time after reaching his home here from Denver this evening. Mr. English had assisted in reporting the democratic convention, and when he arrived home tonight he complained of feeling fatigued. An hour later he was dead. Mr. English, who was 63 years of age, is survived by a widow and a son, Albert A. English.

BLIND BUGLER LAID TO REST.

Though Born Blind, He Served Through the War as Bugler.

Savannah, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—"Pop" Harvey Correll, aged 65, is dead, and though born blind, confederate soldiers today marched behind his coffin to the grave because of his gallantry in the civil war. He had four sisters, all blind from their birth. They were all born in Rockingham county, Virginia. At the outbreak of the civil war Correll enlisted in company B, Seventh cavalry, as bugler. He served with the company two years, and then was made regimental bugler in the command of Colonel Hunter Dulaney. He wore a bronze cross of honor for many years, and when he was buried it was pinned to his breast. Major E. S. Elliott, Captain J. M. Lee and other veterans were his pallbearers. The old man for ten years has been a familiar figure around Savannah.

THE WEATHER; FAIR, WARMER

from Los Angeles to that classic Massachusetts. Aside from that and the heat there is nothing further to mention about meteorology.

"Talking about the weather," said the Gopher, "I want to inform everybody in Atlanta that this is not the hottest town in America, nor does it even approach that position on the map. While everybody here is kicking about how hot it is, just look at the temperatures all over the country. There is Boston with 98, Birmingham 92, Nashville 94, New York 94, Washington 98, and Atlanta with only 88. One doesn't realize what a good thing they have in this summer resort. There is always a cool breeze at night. Don't kick, unless the mosquitos bite. That's all I have to say on that subject."

The temperature: As was said above, it has been only to 88.

"DAREDEVIL KILPATRICK"

Makes Hit at St. Nicholas Auditorium.

It is doubtful if any of the special features offered at the St. Nicholas Auditorium this season has been so enthusiastically received as the remarkable act of "Daredevil" Kilpatrick, which was presented last night.

That a man with but one leg could perform such feats in skating, bicycle riding and balancing is almost incredible, and after seeing Kilpatrick a mere description of his performance seems wholly inadequate.

The large audience of last night applauded this act to the echo, and Kilpatrick was forced to add several features to his regular program to appease the enthusiastic spectators.

Kilpatrick will again challenge the fastest skaters of Atlanta to race him Thursday and Saturday nights, and will appear in his great "One-Ring Circus" every afternoon at 5 and every evening at 9:45 o'clock.

TO BEAR CLEVELAND'S NAME.

National Forest to Be Memorial to Former President.

Washington, July 13.—The San Jacinto national forest in California will hereafter be known as the Cleveland national forest. It has been so re-christened by President Roosevelt in honor of the late president, under whose administration the first national forests were created. In 1897, in honor of Washington's one hundred and sixty-fifth birthday anniversary, President Cleveland created thirteen national forests, containing about 23,000,000 acres. The San Jacinto forest was one of the original so created.

AUTO PLUNGED INTO SALT RIVER

Six Persons Socially Prominent at Louisville Are Injured.

Louisville, Ky., July 13.—Six persons, five of them well known in the social world, were seriously injured in an automobile accident early today, at Smithville, 23 miles out.

Their names are:

Shelby Bonnie, a prominent distiller, leg broken.

Mrs. Shelby Bonnie, bad cuts.

Miss Elizabeth Sherley, seriously bruised.

Richard Menefee, a merchandise broker, internal injuries; condition serious.

Dr. Carl Wiseman, leg broken.

Frank Ball, chauffeur, badly bruised.

The party was returning from Bowling Green, where they had spent yesterday. Reaching Salt river, they started across a bridge, not knowing that a portion of the structure was recently blown away by a storm. The automobile dashed 25 feet into Salt river, turning completely over. In some miraculous manner one end of the car rested on an obstruction, thus preventing the party from being drowned. The injured were brought to their homes in Louisville.

FOR STABBING BAILIFF NEGRO IS BOUND OVER

Statement Is Made That Negroes Have Declared Vendetta Against Justice Hopkins' Court.

Will McDowell, a negro rounder, was held in a $500 bond by the recorder yesterday morning for assault with intent to murder. He had seriously stabbed Bailiff W. H. Mills, of Justice Hopkins' court, Saturday afternoon.

Bailiff Mills, who was in court with his arms in bandages, stated that he arrested McDowell on a warrant, and as he was serving the paper the negro stabbed him twice with a dirk.

McDowell claimed that another negro who was assisting the bailiff did the stabbing.

There was a remarkable coincidence in connection with the stabbing of Bailiff Mills. He was working in the place of Bailiff J. W. Hutchins, of Justice Hopkins' court, Hutchins now being held in jail for shooting to death a negro whom he attempted to arrest, and who tried to cut him with a razor. Mills was stabbed at the same hour—4 o'clock—on a Saturday afternoon, just exactly a month to the day after Hutchins was attacked and forced to kill a negro.

Bailiff R. M. Bell, of Justice Hopkins' court, says that his life has also been threatened by negroes. He is now the only bailiff of that court who has not had serious trouble with negroes for whom there were warrants.

It is believed that certain negroes have determined to make it hot for the bailiffs of this court.

GIRL'S SKULL WAS BROKEN.

Murderer Then Threw Body Into a Pond.

Troy, N. Y., July 13.—The body of a young woman found Saturday floating in Teal's pond has been identified as that of Miss Hazel I. Drew, daughter of John Drew, of this city. Identification was made through a brooch and a hatpin.

It was at first thought that the girl might have committed suicide, but this theory was dispelled by the autopsy, which showed that there was no water in the lungs, proving that the young woman did not drown, and that her skull had been fractured by a heavy blow on the back of the head. It is supposed that the murder took place at some other place, possibly in this city, and that the body was taken to the pond, which is a secluded and lonely spot, and thrown into the water.

FAVOR DEATH FOR DOGS NOT WEARING MUZZLES

After an executive session lasting several minutes, the general agricultural committee of the house yesterday afternoon reported favorably the measure by Mr. Trent, of Heard, which proposes that all dogs not muzzled in Georgia shall be slain. This puts the question up to the general assembly now, and there is a great sentiment in favor of its passage. Mr. Trent, the author of the measure, appeared before the committee and spoke in favor of the measure.

University and Branches.

At a meeting of the committee on the University of Georgia and its branches yesterday afternoon, Dr. A. M. Soule, president of the $100,000 agricultural college at Athens, was made an ex-officio trustee of the University of Georgia, if the bill to that effect is adopted by the general assembly.

Committees Today.

Chairman Murphy Candler, of the general appropriation committee, has called a meeting of his committee for this afternoon when the requests for $560,000 in appropriations will be heard.

The constitutional amendment committee will meet also to continue the hearing on the new counties.

Bills Recommended.

The following bills were favorably recommended yesterday morning by the general judiciary committee:

By Senator Farmer—To authorize the superior courts of this state to grant charters in vacation to such corporations as they are authorized by law to create.

By Mr. Pope, of Brooks—To amend act incorporating the town of Barwick.

The bill of Senator Felder to fix the liability of common carriers for the homicide or injury of employees will be discussed before the committee as a special order on Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

CAN'T GIVE BOY A MATCH TO LIGHT A CIGARETTE

Catersville, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—In his charge to the grand jury at the opening of the July term of court this morning, Judge Fite said, in speaking of the evils of cigarette smoking by minors: "A boy with cigarette papers and tobacco, or with a cigarette, could make no use of them until he had procured something with which to light the cigarette. I charge you that a man who gives a minor a match with which to light a cigarette is as guilty as the man who furnished him with the paper and tobacco, or the cigarette. There is no accessory in a misdemeanor case, and if you find that any one has furnished cigarette papers and tobacco, cigarette, or a match with which to light the cigarette, he is guilty of violation of the statute prohibiting the giving or selling of cigarettes to minors, and you should find a bill of indictment against him."

SHOT TO DEATH IN LONELY SPOT

H. P. Howard, Aged 65 Years, Was Ambushed Near Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Ambushed in a lonely spot west of the city, H. P. Howard, aged 65 years, was shot to death Saturday night, and no clue to his slayer has yet been found. He was unarmed except for his walking stick, and was given no time to offer defense. Mr. Howard was a member of a very prominent South Carolina family, and his death, for which no motive can be assigned, has caused deep sorrow for his wife and nine children, all grown, who survive him.

His dead body was found by an officer who heard the shot fired that caused Mr. Howard's death, and ran to his aid, but though active search was at once begun, not the slightest clue to the assailant could be found.

He will be held in the county jail until he can be sent away.

Prominent Baptist Minister Undergoes an Operation in Atlanta.

Dr. M. B. Wharton, formerly of Virginia, and one of the leaders in the Baptist church, is critically ill in Atlanta. He was brought to this city yesterday from Gainesville, Ga., and taken to the Tabernacle infirmary, where an operation was performed by Drs. McRae and Nicolson.

Dr. Wharton is one of the most distinguished Baptist divines in the south, his present pastorate being in Eufaula, Ala., where he has just superintended the building of a splendid new church. His native home is in Virginia, but for a long number of years he has lived farther down south, and has spent most of his life in Georgia. He was at one time editor of The Christian Index, published in Atlanta. Under President Hayes' administration Dr. Wharton served as United States consul at Sonneburg, Germany.

Besides being prominent as a minister, Dr. Wharton is the author of a number of poems of merit, several books of travel, and two well-known religious books, "Women of the Old Testament" and "Women of the New Testament."

Mrs. Wharton resides in Eufaula, and their only daughter, Mrs. John M. Moore and grandson, Wharton Moore, are well known in Atlanta. Dr. Wharton is a brother of the distinguished evangelist, Dr. H. M. Wharton, who conducted the chautauqua in Atlanta in the early spring.

Dr. Wharton has hosts of friends in Atlanta and all over the south, who will be grieved to learn of his precarious condition, and who will watch his progress with tender interest.

STABBING CASE IS POSTPONED

Trial of English and Green Will Occur Next Saturday.

Cases against Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Green and E. S. English were called in the recorder's court yesterday morning and were postponed until next Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Green and English had a fight last Saturday evening near the Piedmont hotel, and the latter stabbed the former with a knife. The cases were postponed because Green was too ill to appear in court.

Mrs. Green was present and made a statement, saying that she and her husband were walking on Peachtree street Saturday evening and English made some insuling remark about her. Her husband attacked English, who drew a knife and stabbed him.

Policeman Burnett stated that from what the witnesses had told him Green was mostly to blame for the affair.

"Mr. Green seemed to have been drinking," stated the officer, "and when I was investigating the affair, Mrs. Green punched me in the face with her fist. She called me and English some very ugly names."

"That was because I was terribly excited and lost my head when I saw my husband bleeding," explained Mrs. Green. "He had not been drinking, but had just been to supper."

Mrs. Green said her husband was foreman for the Lewis cracker factory.

English made no statement, simply remarking that he would be able to prove his innocence when the cases came up for trial.

Green is not seriously stabbed, but is suffering considerably from the wound in his side.

Mrs. Green says she had never known or seen English before.

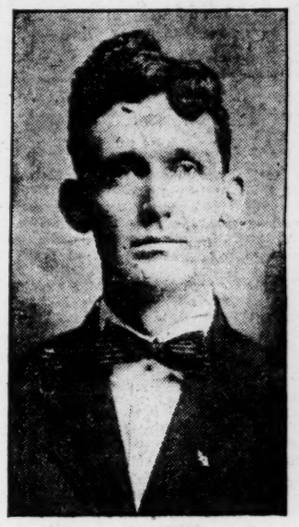
F. M. POWERS ENTERS RACE FOR JUSTICE OF PEACE

He Is Blind, but Believes This Should Not Disqualify Him for Judge's Place.

F. M. Powers has entered the race for justice of the peace for the 1234th district, G. M., against Judge S. H. Landrum, whose term of office expires with the present year. The election occurs the first Saturday in next December. Both candidates are working hard at this early date, and the race promises to be unusually lively for one of its class.



F. M. POWERS,
The Blind Lawyer Who Is Running for Jusice of the Peace.

Despite the fact that Mr. Powers recently lost his sight, and is now totally and permanently blind, yet he predicates his race upon his peculiar qualifications for the office, and argues with some considerable force that "blindness," so far from being a hindrance, is rather conductive to a fair and impartial administration of the law.

Mr. Powers was for many years a member of the local bar, and was regarded as one of the most capable of its younger members, and his knowledge of the law, his friends claim, should prove of incalculable value in an office of this character, where an understanding of the principles of the law is necessary.

SOME MORE BLIND TIGERS IN THE POLICE COURT

The "Coon" Made of Himself a Walking Saloon to Sell Corn Liquor.

There was some blind tiger business doing in the police court yesterday morning.

A one-legged negro, known as the "Coon," and who has several other names which he uses on various occasions to suit emergencies, was arraigned for making of himself a walking saloon. It was shown that the "Coon" went about Darktown with flasks filled with corn whisky in his pockets and a small glass in the top of his hat. Whenever anybody wanted a drink he stepped with his customer into an alley or house and measured out 15 cents worth of the liquor. When Officers Cooper, Hewell and Hollingsworth arrested the "Coon" they found a flask of corn liquor in his hip pocket and the glass in his hat. The "Coon" was held in a $1,000 bond for violating the prohibition law.

John Sanders, a negro, was arraigned for having sold two coa-cola bottles full of corn liquor to a negro who was in the employ of detectives. Sanders swore that he sold the negro spy a lunch for the marked money, and that he knew nothing about any whisky being sold. He had to tell the story about the lunch because the officers found the marked coin in his possession.

The recorder sentenced Sanders to the city chaingang for thirty days without a fine on the charge of keeping whisky for sale at his residence, which has been made a city offense, and which does not conflict with the state prohibition law.

HUNDREDS OF DYING PARROTS

No Food or Water for Birds During Long Journey.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 13.—Hundreds of dead and dying parrots were discovered at the arcade depot yesterday by officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, whose attention was called to the condition of a large shipment en route from Mexico to Fresno. According to the statements of officers who investigated the case, the cages contained nearly a thousand birds, and it was claimed they had been without food or water since their departure from Guayamas. For some reason the cages had been marked with the admonition not to feed or water the birds. Notice will be served on the express companies ordering that shipdents in similar cases be hereafter refused.

SERVICE PENSION KILLED IN HOUSE

Foster Bill Failed to Get Necessary Vote.

TOOK UP WHOLE SESSION

In Order to Dispose of This Measure the Session Was Extended Over an Hour—Debate One of Session's Most Hotly Contested.

By a vote of 113 to 24, the house of representatives yesterday morning went on record as being opposed to the service pension measure as offered by Mr. Foster, of Cobb, and which was debated throughout the morning. It required 122 to pass the constitutional amendment. At 2:15 the house adjourned to meet this evening at 9 o'clock.

Under the terms of this measure, the constitution of Georgia is to be amended so as to allow for the payment of pensions to all confederate veterans and their widows, provided they married prior to 1870, and are in possession of less than $1,000 in realty and personal property.

An effort was made to have the wealth qualification placed at $1,500, and to allow all veterans enlisting from Georgia but serving elsewhere to come under this measure, but both were defeated.

This measure was debated for two days last week, and the house was determined to get through with it during the session. For this purpose the session of the day was extended to 2:15, when it was completed, with a roll call, and the longest session of the present year was recorded.

During the day the leaders of the house were heard on the bill, and the sentiment was very nearly equally divided on the floor.

Candler Fought the Bill.

Mr. Candler, of DeKalb, the "watch dog of the treasury," from his position as chairman of the general appropriation committee, made the leading speech of the day in opposition to the measure and pointed out no matter how much Georgia might wish to do this kindly act to the old heroes in gray, it was a matter of financial impossibility on account of the depleted treasury. He showed how the number of veterans and widows in the state was over double the number now drawing pensions, and declared if this amendment to the constitution was ratified and the law passed, the pension roll would be doubled and the sum to be paid out by the state from this source alone would be $2,000,000.

Mr. Perry, of Hall, chairman of the committee which reported the measure favorably, and Mr. Foster, of Cobb, the author of the measure, made the final pleas for the bill before the house began to take action on the bill and its many amendments.

When this was undertaken Reading Clerk McClatchey was kept busy reading: "Amendments; amendments to the amendment; and amendments to the amendments to the amendment," and so on ad infinitum.

The best parliamentarians in the house became misled on these many involved questions, and shot question after question at Speaker Slaton, who shed them with his usual parliamentary ease, finally narrowing the measure down "as amended," on which the vote recorded was cast.

Special Order for the Day.

When the house met at 10 o'clock, Mr. Foster called up his bill, the "special order" for the day, and debate was immediately begun. Mr. Heard, of Dooly, himself a confederate veteran, was the first to address the house, and he made a strong plea for the measure. When he had concluded, the house broke into applause and was called sharply to order by the speaker, who told the members that cheering was out of order and the house could not expect the laws to be respected which they made if they themselves did not respect their own rules.

Mr. Barrett, of Stephens, followed in opposition to the measure. He went into the economic facts in regard to this measure, and in clear-cut sentences pointed out how the measure was a financial impossibility at this time.

He declared the finances of the state were such as could not be expanded at present, and stated the effort to pay the teachers while letting the pensioners wait had unhorsed a governor.

Mr. Shaw, of Clay followed Mr. Stephens, and spoke earnestly and eloquently in support of the measure.

Tribute to the Soldier.

Mr. Candler, of DeKalb, followed in opposition to the measure. He began by paying a high tribute to the confederate soldier, veterans and widows. He stated he yielded to no man a greater respect for them or love for the cause, but declared: "My sense of duty and justice compels me to oppose this measure at this time. I think this house should rise to a higher duty and defeat the bill, for the reason that it is neither right nor fair to appropriate money which we have not nor see a way to raise."

Mr. Wilson, of Gwinnett, interrupted and asked if tax assessors were appointed could not the money be raised in that way.

"Yes, it could, but the legislature won't pass such a bill. I have tried it for six years; I have such a bill pending, which I doubt if the gentleman from Gwinnett will support."

In his speech later Mr. Wilson said that he would support this bill.

Mr. Candler said that the legislature was supposed to investigate and recommend constitutional amendments, and if they did so the people would ratify it, and then it would be a command to the legislature to pay these pensions, and there would be nowhere to get the money. He stated the state was appropriating all possible, and asked what would the legislature "cut off" to raise this additional $1,000,000, and concluded by asking any man to rise and suggest a "cut off."

Mr. Candler was followed by Mr. Wilson, of Gwinnett, himself a confederate veteran. He speaks but seldom, but when he does the members gather round, the speaker leans over to hear and all listen, for he is one of the most delightful speakers in the house. He made a great speech and did much good for the measure.

He was followed by Mr. Kendrick, of Taliaferro, another veteran, who spoke in favor the measure, and whose recitation of the privations experienced by the men whom the measure sought to pension brought tears to the eyes of many.

Mr. Thurmond, of Walker, followed, and spoke to his amendment making the property valuation $1,000 instead of $1,500.

Mr. Payton, of Worth, and Mr. Williams, of Dodge, both spoke in favor of the measure.

Mr. Wright, of Floyd, representing the minority report, followed in opposition to the measure.

Mr. Perry, of Hall, and Mr. Foster, of Cobb, closed the debate in favor of the measure.

WOULD ABOLISH LEASE SYSTEM

Felder Bill Provides for Prison Farm.

GOV. CANDLER TO BE HEARD

Bill Abolishing Office Now Held by Him Sent Back to Appropriations Committee Despite the Opposition of Senators Felder and Knight.

One of the most important measures introduced at the session of the senate on yesterday was that by Senator Felder to so amend the act to create a prison commission for the state of Georgia so as to provide for the disposition of certain felony convicts after the 1st of April, 1909. The bill provides that these convicts shall be placed on the prison farm instead of being leased out.

Senator Felder stated to a representative of The Constitution that he had delayed introducing his bill hoping that the joint committee from the senate would draft a bill which would solve the question, but said: "The measure framed by that committee will merely perpetuate the leasing of convicts in the state, and my bill will do away with this evil at the earliest possible time."

The outcome of these measures will be awaited with interest by the public.

The senate passed the resolution by Mr. Candler of DaKalb, which carries out the governor's suggestion giving the University of Georgia the privilege of sharing in the Carnegie foundation fund.

To Report on Martin Bill.

The chairman of the agricultural committee stated that his report in reference to the Martin tax bill would be submitted Tuesday morning. The bill will probably be considered by the senate and voted upon during the day. Much interest has been taken in the outcome of this important measure by people all over the state, and the disposition of the senate in reference to agricultural education will be settled by the action which they take on the measure.

The senate was called to order by President Pro Tem. E. T. Steed at 10 o'clock, President Flynt being kept away by the continued serious illness of his father.

Immediateely after the reading of the journal, Senator Hardman moved that the bill by Senator Felder, which withdraws the appropriation for the compiling of colonial records and which received a favorable report at the hands of the appropriation committee several days ago, be recommitted to the committee in order that Governor Candler could be given an opportunity to be heard.

This motion was opposed by Senators Felder and Knight, but the senate carried the motion to extend this courtesy to Governor Candler by the vote of 18 to 9. The bill will be rediscussed in the committee Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

New Bills in Senate.

The following ntw bills were introduced in the senate:

By Senator Felder—To fix the liability of common carriers for the homicide of or injury and damage done to employees so as to conform to the national law.

By Senator Felder—To provide for the disposition of felony convicts.

Nominations by Governor.

A message from the governor made the following nominations, which were confirmed by the senate in executive session:

Hon. W. D. Tutt as judge of the city court of Elberton for term of four years from December 24, 1908.

Hon. Frank Reagan to be judge of county court of Henry county for four years from October 28, 1908.

J. F. Wall as solicitor of county court of Henry for two years from December 1, 1908.

Natt Harris Milner as solicitor of the city court in Cartersville, in Bartow county, for four years from November 12, 1908.

Bills Passed by Senate.

The following bills were passed:

By Mr. Reid of Putnam (house bill)—To create a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for Putnam county.

By Mr. Shaw of Clay—To provide for the payment of $56.16 to W. A. McAllister for armory rent for the Fort Gaines Guards, out of the first funds appropriated and available for military purposes.

By Mr. Candler of DeKalb—A joint resolution giving Georgia privilege of sharing in the $10,000,000 Carnegie foundation fund.

STINGING REBUKE GIVEN.

United States Official Reproves the Election Managers in Cuba.

Santiago, Cuba, July 13.—Captain A. J. Dougherty, governor of Santiago province, has sent the following official telegram to the presidents of the electoral boards of Jiguani and El Cobrek:

"The extreme partiality which has been demonstrated by you in naming chairmen and employees of the electoral board not only shows your lack of patriotism and civil honor, but also a great lack of commonsense, because your action has been so coarse that it is plainly apparent to the most ignorant. Far from benefiting your party, such partiality is the shortest and surest road to the ruin of your party and your country. Fortunately, this partiality has not been general in your province."

GIRL SAVES THREE LIVES.

14-Year-Old Cora Hosford Rescues Drowning Persons.

Portland, Oreg., July 13.—Cora Hosford, 14 years old, yesterday, at Washougal, Wash., rescued her father, Captain Hosford; W. B. Patterson, her uncle, and Mildred Long, her half-sister, who were in swimming. The Long girl became exhausted and Captain Hosford went to her assistance. The girl's struggles exhausted him, and he cried for help, and Patterson went to assist him. Captain Hosford himself was exhausted, and Miss Hosford swam to him and bore him in safety to the shore. By this time Patterson had become exhausted in his efforts to save the struggling girl, and his little niece plunged into the water, swam to him, seized her uncle by his hair and towed him to shore, where he was resuscitated. She then went back and secured the body of the Long girl. The latter, however, was past reviving.

CONVICT BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Will Probably Be Made Special Order for Today.

FIGHT SURE IN THE HOUSE

Effort Will Be Made to Postpone Discussion of Measure Until a Thorough Investigation Has Been Made by Committee of House and Senate.

It is more than probable the Holder convict bill will be taken up as a special order by the house today, and kept open for debate until a vote is taken.

Chairman Holder introduced a resolution last week asking that this be done, and the rules committee has granted the request, but as yet the house has had no chance to act upon the report. It will probably be adopted. There is one special order already set, but this will take up but a short time of the house.

That there will be opposition to taking up the convict question at once there is no doubt.

Mr. Wright of Floyd stated he wanted the present system thoroughly investigated by a committee of from five to nine who were to report on the subject before any action was taken. It was stated by some of the members that they agreed with him and wanted the investigation to be thorough and complete, even if the report had to be made to an extra session of the general assembly.

"I shall oppose taking this question up at once," said Mr. Wright, "for it is one of too large import to be acted upon hastily."

Mr. Shaw of Clay has introduced a resolution calling for an investigation, and this may be amended when it comes up for adoption.

The general assembly is very anxious to get into this question, as it is generally realized this is the most important measure pending, and will probably consume ten days or more in passing in the house and equally as long in the senate.

NATIONAL LAND HOLDINGS.

Alabama Has Left Only 129,713 Acres of Agricultural Lands.

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—The depletion of the national land holdings is illustrated by the fact that Alabama has left now only 129,713 acres of agricutural lands. The year just closed saw entered of this class of lands 121,497 acres. There were also disposed of 3,723 acres of timber lands. It is shown that there are yet 46,320 acres of lands classed minerals and 30,000 acres of timber. The last two items are not for entry, the timber being classed as national forests, with 2,500 acres as military lands.

Wrightsville Beach excursion, $5.00 round trip. Five days. July 16th, SEABOARD.

Much Opposition to Bill.

Cairo, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—There is much opposition among the people of Grady to a bill recently introduced by Representative Terrell, of this county, to create four terms of the superior court for Grady. It is held by them that this is a stroke at the city court. The question of a repeal of the city court was submitted to the people in the primary for the election of county officers, and was defeated, the vote being 1,325 to 63. The people are signing petitions to the legislature to defeat the bill, and it is very likely that a delegation will go from this county to appear against the bill.

SENATE TO INSPECT WORK OF STATE HEALTH BOARD

Dr. J. Edgar Paullin Will Explain the Fight Made Against Many Diseases.

Immediately after adjournment today the senate in a body will be conducted through the offices of the state board of health by Dr. J. Edgar Paullin, who is the assistant to Dr. Roy Harris, the secretary of the state board of health, and who has for the past few weeks been in charge of the offices during the illness of Dr. Harris.

It will be remembered that Senator Hardman, who is a physician, succeeded in securing an appropriation last year of $3,500, with which to enable the board of health to wage a battle against diphtheria, tuberculosis and hydrophobia. The visit will be principally to inspect the work which has been accomplished.

The senators will be conducted through the business office to the general laboratory, where various cultures are grown, and where microscopic examination of sputum and all specimens of various kinds of diseases are examined and diagnoses made.

Into another room the senators will be directed and will be shown just how the various bacteria are grown, the culture medium and temperature apparatus being explained in detail.

From this room the company will be conducted into the apartments where rabbits and guinea pigs are kept. Dr. Paullin will explain how the rabbits are inoculated with the hydrophobia poison and how within ten days these animals have contracted hydrophobia and have surrendered their lives for the sake of many human lives who may have been bitten by a mad dog.

Dr. Paullin stated that he was treating now twenty-four hydrophobia patients and that all of them were progressing excellently and that at the end of twenty-one days all patients were discharged and pronounced as well.

WON'T ACCEPT NOMINATION.

Statement Made by Hon. George O. Tillman, of Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., July 13.—Hon. George O. Tillman, of this city, in a card published in The Banner this afternoon, declares he will not accept the republican nomination for governor. Ill health is given as the reason for his declining.

Mr. Tillman is a prominent lawyer here, and one of the foremost republicans of the state. His name has been frequently mentioned in connection with the nomination. He is a brother-in-law of ex-Congressman Joseph E. Washington, democrat, of this state.

KILLED BY ELECTRIC CAR.

Birmingham, Ala., July 13.—Joseph E. Drennen, a prominent merchant of Avondale, a suburb of this city, is dead, as the result of an electric car running into his buggy and throwing him to the ground. The man's skull was fractured and his collarbone broken. He was a nephew of the Drennen brothers, department storekeepers and mine operators.

Consul Haskins Dead.

Pekin, July 13.—Thomas W. Haskins, the newly appointed American consul at Swatow, died suddenly last night at Pei Tai Ho, a seaside resort.

Thomas W. Haskins was appointed from California. His first service was as student interpreter in China, July 18, 1892. He was appointed assistant Chinese secretary to the legation to China July 4, 1902. The state department at Washington, on July 8 last, announced his appointment as consul at Swatow.

Diarrhoea, Colic and Cholera Morbus

Are diseases that require prompt attention.

In almost every neighborhood some one has died from these diseases before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned.

Those who rely upon physicians often find that they are away from home when most needed.

Every family, and especially those who reside on farms and ranches, miles from any drug store or physician should keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

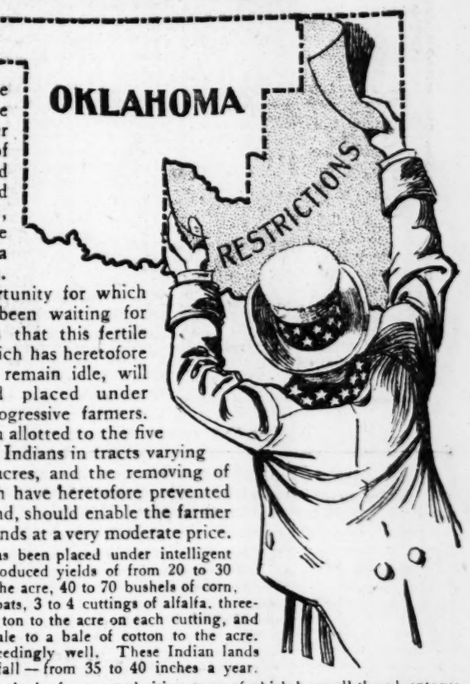
No physician can prescribe a better medicine for the purposes for which it is intended.

The remarkable cures effected by this remedy, in all parts of the country, have made it the acknowledged standard.

It can always be depended upon to effect a quick cure, and when reduced with water is pleasant to take. It is equally valuable for children and adults.

Uncle Sam Removes Restrictions on Indian Lands

On July 27th the restrictions will be removed on over 8,000,000 acres of fertile Indian land in Oklahoma (old Indian Territory), so that it can be purchased and a clear title given.



This is an opportunity for which thousands have been waiting for years. It means that this fertile land, much of which has heretofore been allowed to remain idle, will be bought and placed under cultivation by progressive farmers.

This land has been allotted to the five civilized tribes of Indians in tracts varying from 40 to 320 acres, and the removing of restrictions, which have heretofore prevented the sale of the land, should enable the farmer to buy excellent lands at a very moderate price.

Where this land has been placed under intelligent cultivation it has produced yields of from 20 to 30 bushels of wheat to the acre, 40 to 70 bushels of corn, 60 to 80 bushels of oats, 3 to 4 cuttings of alfalfa, three-fourths of a ton to a ton to the acre on each cutting, and three-fourths of a bale to a bale of cotton to the acre. Fruit also does exceedingly well. These Indian lands have abundant rainfall—from 35 to 40 inches a year.

This territory has hundreds of towns and cities, many of which have all the advantages of older settled communities, such as schools and churches, hotels, libraries, electric lights, telephones and telegraph lines, street railways, etc. Only 11% of the present population of these Indian lands are Indians and they are civilized, law-abiding citizens. If you are not satisfied with the opportunities where you are now located, this is your one great chance to better your condition. Take a trip down there and look around; find the farm that just suits you and buy it while it is cheap.

The Rock Island-Frisco Lines have over 1300 miles of railway in the territory where the restrictions have been removed—over three times as much as any other line. Purchase your ticket over the Rock Island-Frisco Lines and you will see the best. Low round-trip rates will be in effect to all points in these lands and other parts of the Southwest on July 21st, August 4th and 18th.

DE LORIS FACES BULLETS AND AUDIENCE WONDERS

The Feature Act at the Casino.

At the Casino.

Of course everybody wondered and wondered again why Atrat, the invulnerable human or the woman who defies rifle and pistol bullets to injure her, did not flinch when De Loris, the crack shot of Europe, fired a ball through her waist, shattering a target 18 inches from her back. They are still wondering, perhaps, but that will not solve the mystery.

The shooting affair was at the close of the bill at the Casino. It was very short, and consisted only in the firing of five shots at some armor steel, and the piercing of Atrat's waist with one of the bullets in order to break a target. It was all over too quick for any one to think what had happened. Everybody thought it was marvellous, but no one offered any solution to the problem as to why Atrat could stand such a fusillade without even winking an eye.

The main part of the bill this week is composed of acrobatic acts. Lester Brothers and Creighton Sisters, the American Beauties. Work and Ower are three teams with the athletic line of amusement. Work and Ower and the American Beauties are the best, but the Lester Brothers and Creighton Sisters are good.

Duffy, Sawtelle and Duffy appear in a sketch entitled "Naughty Knott, Jr." This did not take very well with the audience. Some things in it were good, and some were not. Arthur Rigby, as a minsterelist, was good, and helped the performance to a great extent.

The part of the program which seemed to attract more attention and pleased the audience more than anything else was the announcement that commencing Monday, July 20, the Baldwin Company, direct from a run at the Bijou theater in Birmingham, will put on Channing Pollock's "The Bishop's Carriage," with Miss Jane Wheatley, who appeared in Atlanta during the summer season of 1907, as the leading lady.

The departure from vaudeville to comedy took the eyes of the readers of the programs at once, and more especially so when it was found that "The Bishop's Carriage" would be the first play. The innovation or the change in the procedure was what hit the mark.

DEATH OF ORIN A. WING OCCURS AT LOWELL; MASS.

He Had Gone to Lowell From Atlanta and Was Recently Married There.

News was received in Atlanta yesterday of the death of Orin Arthur Wing, in Lowell, Mass., the home of his parents, on Friday of last week, after an illness of over a month with typhoid fever.

Mr. Wing came to Atlanta last October as an adjuster for the Travelers' Insurance Company. He was formerly connected with the head office in Hartford. Early in June he left for his home in Lowell, Mass., and was married on the 14th of that month to Miss Sophie White, of that place. Immediately after the marriage he was stricken with typhoid fever, and taken to a sanitarium.

The deceased leaves, besides his wife, a mother, father, and one sister. He was a graduate of Yale, 1907, and a member of the Phi Gamma Delta. During his stay in Atlanta he made a great many friends both in the business and social world.

DROVES OF ELKS INVADE DALLAS

TYPICAL SOUTHERN DINNER

Some Two Score "Nigger Mammies," Attired in Before-the-War Style, Served the Viands to the Many Guests.

Dallas, Tex., July 13.—With the air tempered by last night's storm to the south, Dallis streets today early took on the proper aspect for the reunion and annual convention of the benevolent order of Elks, which began formally tonight.

Throughout the day and evening the streets were literally lined with marching clubs and brass bands, those attracting the greater attention being Los Angeles, Detroit and Austin, Tex. Beaumont was also very prominent.

Typical Southern Dinner.

This afternoon nearly a thousand persons sat down to a typical southern dinner in the machinery hall at the Fair Grounds, given to members of the grand lodge and members of their families.

Typical it was, this dinner, both in the viands served in the manner of its service and the waitresses who passed the steaming dishes about to allow each guest to "help himself."

But the most typical of all were the waitresses. There were some two score of old "nigger mammies," with bandanna turbans on their heads, the sleeves of their freshly starched print dresses rolled high above their brown elbows.

Tonight, in the Fair Grounds auditorium, the first formal function was held.

Band of — Pieces.

Hon. M. T. Lively had charge of this function, and presided tonight. A band of thirty-five pieces and the "convention chorus" of 125 voices rendered the overture from Wagner's "Tannhauser" and "America," and other selections during the evening.

The invocation was delivered by Grand Chaplain Rev. John Dysart, past exalted ruler, of Jamestown, N. Y., lodge, No. 263, followed with the Elks' quartet of Spokane, Wash.

Hon. William H. Atwell, past exalted ruler, of Dallas lodge, and chairman of the executive committee, delivered the address of welcome on the part of the executive committee.

Senator Charles A. Culberson, on the part of the Dallas lodge; Mayor Stephen J. Hana, a member of Dallas lodge, on behalf of the city, and John H. Kirby, of Houston lodge, No. 151, and president of the Texas association, in the name of the lodges of the state.

Governor Campbell, past exalted ruler, of Palestine lodge No. 873, delivered the address of welcome on the part of the state of Texas, and John Tener, grand exalted ruler, of the Charleroi, Pa., lodge, responded on the part of Elkdom.

The benediction, closing tonight's program, was pronounced by Rev. C. B. Welbourne, of Terrell lodge, No. 472.

Detroit and Los Angeles are apparently the only two candidates for the 1909 convention.

Steam Siren in Action.

It was but a few hours after daybreak that the steam siren of the Los Angeles delegation, placed on the roof of the Southland hotel, began to tell the gathered thousands that Los Angeles sought the next convention.

In almost every place where a banner could be stuck up there appears a big sign, "Life Is Worth Living in Detroit," and in addition, each representative of that city is telling of its advantages.

The city is thronged with visitors from every section of the United States, as well as Mexico.

The program for tomorrow begins with the grand lodge session at 10 o'clock. At 12 noon will begin undoubtedly the largest barbecue ever given, arrangements having been made to serve 40,000 visitors in the old-fashioned way. This part of the program closes at 3 p. m.

At 10 p. m. a dinner will be given to the visiting press representatives.

MONTREAL AND QUEBEC.

A veritable edition de luxe amongst railroad pamphlets has just been issued by the Grand Trunk to proclaim amongst tourists the glories of the cities of Montreal and Quebec. The brochure is beautifully printed, and generally arranged in the artistic style of earlier days, when the ornamentation of a volume was regarded as an important incident to its presentation of reading matter. It is also very well written, and gives an interesting description of the two most interesting cities in Canada, with many illustrations from photographs that have not hitherto been published. Sent to any address on receipt of a two-cent stamp. Apply to G. W. Vaux, 917 Merchants' Loan and Trust Building, Chicago, Ill.

FIRST MONEY IN TIFT CASE

Macon, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—A decision reached by Standing Master J. N. Talley upon the Tift lumber rate case claims, and filed in the United States court this evening, gave to the Ocmulgee Lumber Company $9,878.64 returns on the extra two cents per hundred pounds on lumber to the Ohio river and the west.

This became the first actual remittance according to the findings of the standing master in the case that now has behind it more than a million dollars tied up. The question of holding claims valid that was raised by the members of the Georgia-Florida Saw Mill Association against the defendant railway lines of the southeast on lumber upon which the extra overcharge was made, had been settled in the court before Judge Emory Speer, but this became one of the heads under which the claims were classified before the standing master, and he took up a hearing on June 15 this year.

The railway lines have thirty days to file exception to the master's report upon this claim, but the indications are that this money will be paid without protest. The Southern, the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, the Mobile and Ohio, the Louisville and Nashville and the Illinois Central are the lines from which the first blood is drawn. Within a month's time all the eighty-five claims of the members of the Georgia-Florida Saw Mill Association will be disposed of before the standing master, and he will then be required to enter those who have been admitted under the ruling of Judge Speer from other outsiders.

The next difficult claim will be that of the Garbutt Lumber Company, in which a protest against the payment of the overcharge on the f. o. b. shipments has been entered by the railroads. Here the buyer is said to have paid the freight.

Macon May Own Waterworks.

Macon, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Throughout the entire community there is a steadily growing sentiment in favor of municipal ownership of the waterworks. Within the last twelve months there has been an outspoken sentiment on all sides in the Central City, and it is certain that 1910 will not be passed without a thorough thrashing out of this matter before the public.

All political factions, without an exception, have favored taking over the property in Macon, and the movement will probably take definite shape as soon as some one forges ahead with the proposition in such form as to enlist the people of the community in the movement. The time will soon arrive when changes in the contracts with the present water company will be made necessary. The property of the Macon Gas Light and Water Company is by no means an ordinary asset, and what the company has done and will do to retain the business of supplying the city may have much to do with the final disposition of the matter.

CENTRAL DIRECTORS MEET.

Directors of Ocean Steamship Company Also Have Meeting.

Macon, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—The quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Central railway was held in Macon today on account of the indisposition of President J. F. Hanson. The regular routine business of the company was disposed of, with all official representatives present. Stuart B. Knott, of New York, was here, representing the interests of Harriman, who owns the Central.

The meeting was attended by President J. F. Hanson, Vice President W. A. Winburn, of Savannah; Stuart R. Knott, of New York; Joseph Hull and George J. Mills, of Savannah; S. R. Jaques, of Macon; W. C. Bradley, of Columbus; C. E. James, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; R. E. Steiner, of Montgomery, Ala., and Secretary C. C. Williams.

A meeting of the directors of the Ocean Steamship Company was also held, the routine business of the company being the only matters disposed of.

Those present were: President J. F. Hanson, Vice President and General Manager William H. Pleasants, of New York; Stuart R. Knott, of New York; and Messrs. Henry Blun and Malcolm MacLean, of Savannah.

Still Finding Mrs Gunness.

Laporte, Ind., July 13.—According to information received by Sheriff Smutzer, Mrs. Belle Gunness was discovered today in two cities, Portland, Maine, and Rockford, Mich. The county commissioners decline to authorize the expenditures of any more money for running down worthless clews.

CASE OF THAW NOT YET DECIDED

Hearing as to Jury Trial Postponed Until September.

EVELYN THAW NOT PRESENT

Prisoner Greatly Disappointed by Non-Attendance of His Wife. Affidavits by Experts Introduced by Attorney for Thaw.

White Plains, N. Y., July 13.—Proceedings in Harry Thaw's application for a jury trial to determine his mental condition were today adjourned until the September term of the supreme court of Westchester county. This arrangement was entered into before Judge Mills by Thaw's counsel and District Attorney Jerome, of New York. In the meantime Thaw will remain in the custody of Sheriff Chanler, of Duchess county, and will stay in the jail at Poughkeepsie.

Adjourned by Agreement.

The agreement to adjourn the proceedings to September had been entered into by stipulation by District Attorney Jerome, of New York, and counsel for Thaw before the case was called today.

When the stipulation was presented to Judge Mills in court he said at first he did not approve the agreement, inasmuch as counsel were not agreed as to where Thaw should remain in the meantime. A representative of Mr. Jerome, who was present, finally joined in the request that Thaw be remanded to the Poughkeepsie jail, after Mr. Morschauser had threatened to withdraw from the agreement and insist upon an immediate hearing on the main point at issue.

Judge Mills then gave his approval to the present adjournment, and directed that Thaw be remanded to the custody of the Duchess county sheriff, until September 21, when he will be again produced before Judge Mills, at White Plains, and arguments will be made on the application for a jury trial.

Thaw expected his wife to meet him in the court room here today, and expressed himself as greatly disappointed when she did not arrive on the early train from New York.

Mr. Morschauer brought with him for presentation to the court several affidavits in support of his application to have Thaw detained in the Poughkeepsie jail while the proceedings before Judge Mills are pending.

Effect of Matteawan on Thaw.

One affidavit was by Dr. Stillo, Thaw's family physician in New York, who said:

"He entered Matteawan in fairly good physical health, mentally vigorous and active, and absolutely of normal and rational mind. During my examinations, while Harry Thaw was at Matteawan he gained in weight, but lost decidedly in nervous force and stamina. The gain in weight, while apparently a symptom of increased health, was, in reality, only due to the change in diet from a mixed to a steady diet and a carbohydrate food, such as bread and potatoes. While such a diet might scientifically be figured out to contain sufficient heat values to satisfy the physiological demand of nutrition, it is also a well-known fact that the mental power and energy and power of endurance will decrease in ratio to the increase in fat and gain in weight. On July 1, after his confinement in Poughkeepsie jail, I found a remarkable change. The action of the stomach and liver were again normal. While he had gained three or four more pounds, his flesh had become firmer and more healthy, and his appearance, action and conversation denoted a return to the former vigorous condition. These improvements are solely due, in my estimation, to the change in diet, surroundings and respite from depressing conditions. I have always found him rational and of sound mind, never showing any evidence of delusions or mental inferiority."

Thaw Not a Paranoiac, Says Pilgrim

Another affidavit by Dr. Charles W. Pilgrim, superintendent of the Hudson River State Hospital for the Insane, at Poughkeepsie, who was one of Thaw's experts at the former trial, was introduced. It was similar to that of Dr. Stillo's. Dr. Pilgrim declares that never at any time has he observed in Thaw any symptoms indicating paranoia. His condition and conversation were at all times rational, the doctor said, and his temper was under control.

Other affidavits were made by A. Russell Peabody, who said it would be dangerous to Thaw's health to recommit him to the associations at Matteawan.

After dinner at a hotel, Thaw and his custodians left for Poughkeepsie on a train due there at 4:30 p. m. He will be placed, as heretofore, in the juvenile department of the county jail, which has no other prisoner. While waiting for dinner Thaw played croquet with Roger O'Mara and Deputy Sheriff McCabe, of Poughkeepsie. His wife did not come here today.

FRENCH "FOURTH OF JULY."

Taking of the Bastille Will Be Celebrated Today.

Paris, July 13.—On the eve of the national fete all Paris is merrymaking. The city is brilliantly illuminated, and popular street dances were in full blast until long after midnight. Among the honors issued today was the promotion of Judes Cambon, the French ambassador to Germany, to the rank of Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, for distinguished service at Berlin, and the decoration of P. le Faivre, the French minister to Cuba, who was made an officer of the legion.

WAS BURIED IN PAUPER LOT.

Yet Kuyawinsky Had Just Sent to Europe $1,000.

Columbus, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—After waiting two weeks to get advices from his people as to what disposition to make of his body, the city hospital authorities today buried the remains of John Kuyawinsky, a Pole, in the pauper lot here.

Recently Kuyawinsky sent nearly one thousand dollars to his brother in Europe, being afraid to place it in an American bank. He died here July 1, and his body was embalmed and his relatives notified, it being known that he had just sent them money and the supposition being that they would provide means for a respectable burial here, or the shipping of the remains home. Finally advices were received to bury Kuyawinsky in the pauper's lot in Columbus, which has just been done, funeral services being held at the Church of the Holy Family. The embalmed body was stored away for two weeks in a local undertaker's shop.

Bryan roosters have appeared in Charleston; but they are not crowing lustily in the editorial office of The News and Courier.

Taft says the republican party will give an account of its doings. An account of what it will leave undone would be more interesting.

Bryan says the world is growing better, and Taft says the world is all right. Both of them have fallen in love with the world at an opportune moment.

It was a home freeze-out for Peary when the president gave him a dig in the ribs and lightly remarked that discovering the North Pole was jolly good sport.

President Roosevelt is advised by The Courier-Journal to start a magazine of his own. It says that "for the president to barter the product of his pen for a paltry dollar a line when he could almost without an effort build up a millionaire magazine, is reckless thriftlessness. Possibly it is too late for him to avail himself of the incalculable profits that might arise from the adoption of this well-meant and perfectly sound advice. If so it is regrettable that the man of all men who is equipped to establish an immensely successful magazine should content himself with being a mere contributor."

HARMONY IN PARTY RANKS.

The spirit of harmony which pervades the ranks of the national democracy following the convention at Denver augurs well, at the outset, for its success in the contest in which it is now engaged.

Leaders of those elements of the party which, prior to the convention, stood at cross-purposes with the main wing, have gracefully and, apparently, whole-heartedly, acquiesced in the will of the majority, and will give their unreserved support to the ticket.

Herman Ridder, of New York, the well-known German editor who canvassed the south in opposition to Mr. Bryan prior to the convention, and upon the eve of its meeting, went to Lincoln to endeavor to persuade Mr. Bryan to withdraw the use of his name, has put behind him his pre-convention views and announced his purpose to enter earnestly and enthusiastically into the support of the convention's nominees.

Judge Alton B. Parker, himself a candidate four years ago, and another strong opposition leader, has congratulated Mr. Bryan upon the outcome of the Denver convention, and will use his influence toward the success of the ticket.

Other leaders of similar prominence in the opposition ranks have, similarly, buried their antagonistic views and allied themselves with the platform and the nominees.

Present indications, therefore, point to the fact that the national democracy will go to the polls in November presenting a united front and determined, if possible, to win.

There is, in the meantime, much work to be done in the direction of bringing into alignment with the democracy those independent elements whose lot is cast with that party which holds out to them greatest hope of relief from oppressive conditions.

That they have, in the main, all to gain by joining their fortunes with the democrats, and nothing from the republicans, the platforms of the two parties eloquently testify.

Palpable admission of this fact comes from the republican candidate himself, who has sought by his individual action to supply the chief deficiencies in his party's platform.

He has, in his selection of campaign treasurer, made concession to the demand for publicity of campaign contributions, for Treasurer Sheldon must operate under the New York publicity law; and he has, in effect, come to the expressed democratic view of the federal court injunction.

The democratic platform is emphatic upon these and other principles which the republican management is now seeking to supply by implication.

But, most important of all, in respect to tariff reform, upon which the republican platform offers but empty promises, that party's candidate is silent; there will be no amendment of that feature of its platform, nor will there be any real tariff reform, if the republican party is again successful.

A united democracy, therefore, presents to the country not simply promises, but prospects of the enactment, under its administration, of those measures so earnestly sought for the good of the nation.

Therein it presents clear title to the support of those whose beliefs it voices and who will seek to align themselves with the party of accomplishment.

It is here that there lies hope of its success—a success which will mean the fulfillment of national obligation and national demand.

THE DENVER SPIRIT.

Atlanta's laurels are threatened. The city of Denver is a rival. She has shown the possession of a local spirit that is invincible.

In the entertainment afforded the thousands of visitors to the democratic national convention, Denver has established a new record of municipal enterprise.

Denver is anxious for the world to know what she is doing, and to this end she has invited the world to enter her gates. The patriotic citizens of that western metropolis raised a purse of $100,000 to secure the republican national convention. They were unsuccessful. Undaunted, they made the same proposal to the democrats, and won.

When the convention met, the citizens of Denver threw open their hearts and their homes and made the visitors right royally welcome. There was no thought of partisan political affiliations when the money was being subscribed to secure the convention, and there was none in the entertainment afforded. It was generous, whole-souled, public-spirited hospitality. There was a hearty handshake and a cordial welcome for every visitor, and the city met with abounding generosity every requirement of the occasion.

The convention hall at Denver, costing $500,000, was ideally appointed and superbly decorated; the streets were a maze of color, and the homes were alight with welcome.

And through it all, politics had no part. Denver had given her promise to the democratic committee. How well her citizens redeemed it, news dispatches and the enthusiastic comments of returning delegates speak most eloquently.

Atlanta has in course of completion a convention hall which will rank among the largest in the United States. Atlanta has the public spirit and the enterprise to duplicate Denver's great national success. Heretofore the activity of her citizens in securing national gatherings has been somewhat limited by reason of the absence of a conveniently located, commodious convention hall.

When the new convention hall is finally completed, Atlanta should and will become one of the leading convention cities of the country. She has amply demonstrated in the past what she can do, and now that she is better prepared than ever, there should be held here every year gatherings of national and international importance.

The energy and enterprise and public-spirited generosity displayed on such occasions win for the city thousand-fold returns.

Ask Denver!

IMMIGRATION AND THE PANIC.

In the discussion over the influx of aliens into this country, the press and the public often lose sight of the tide that flows the other way. It is taken for granted that once the immigrant has arrived, he stays put.

Some figures recently given out by the Atlantic steamship conference will cause surprise. The record of arriving aliens for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, was 687,000 as compared to 1,300,000 the year before. The steamship companies' records show the departure of 560,914 aliens for their homes abroad since January 1 of this year.

The immigration commissioner at New York, Mr. Watchhorn, estimates that the number of departures actually exceeded the total number of arrivals.

The reason for this migration is not far to seek. The shutting down of vast industrial enterprises, the cessation of work by railroads and other corporations, the general paralysis of the business and labor worlds, is the generally accepted explanation of this condition. Since October there has been a marked falling off in the arrival of immigrants and a tremendous increase in the number leaving our shores.

Of course this condition will probably reverse itself, and with the return of normal conditions the arrivals will be greater than ever before.

It has, therefore, become apparent that the ebb and flow of this tide is due more to the condition of the labor market than any other cause. When work is plentiful, foreigners come to our shores; when industrial activity is at a low ebb, they take advantage of the low transportation rates and seek their old homes, where the cost of living is less.

WHERE THE ASPHALT ENDS.

So many promises have been broken in respect to the repairs which were to have been made on that portion of Peachtree street from the point where the asphalt ends to the city limits at Fifteenth street, that the residents whose property abuts upon it are practically in the last stages of despair.

Attention is forcibly called to the outrageous condition of this street, in a letter written by Mr. Charles A. Conklin to Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, a copy of which, furnished The Constitution by the writer, is published elsewhere.

Peachtree street is recognized as the foremost city thoroughfare. It is comparatively well-paved with asphalt to Sixth street. Its continuation beyond the city limits, in Peachtree road, forms the most popular driveway in the county, and yet the connecting link between the asphalt and the well-constructed country road is nothing more nor less than a series of ruts and holes with a sprinkling of boulder-like rocks that threaten the continued existence of any vehicle that dares to brave them.

The residents of that portion of the street want the improvement; they have long been demanding it, and it has, time and again, been promised them. Yet nothing seems to be doing!

The situation has reached the point of exasperation.

What is to be done about it?—And when?

An exchange says that a favorite story which General F. D. Grant likes to tell concerns a railroad in the south, so slow that finally a prominent southern planter wrote the newspaper of the district about it:

"Sir—Is there no way to put a stop to begging along the line of the railroad? For instance, yesterday an aged man with a wooden leg kept pace with the afternoon express all the way from Paint Rock to Nola Chucky and annoyed the passengers exceedingly, going from open window to another with his importunate solicitations."

DISGRACEFUL CONDITION ON PEACHTREE STREET

Following is a copy of a lettr written by Mr. Charles A. Conklin to Colonel Clifford L. Anderson, regarding the disgraceful condition of Peachtree street from Sixth street to the city limits, and the failure of the city to carry out its promises to remedy the evil complained of:

My Dear Colonel Anderson: It is almost a part of ancient history when I first interested myself, and solicited your interest, in behalf of those citizens of this city (myself included) who are so unfortunate as to have been taken into the city, whether they wished to be or not, and who have not received the benefits threfrom that they were led to believe they would receive; in fact, which they were promised. I refer to those citizens resident upon Peachtree street from Sixth street, the old city limits, to Fifteenth street, the new city limits.

What we were promised and led to expect in regard to the improvements of Peachtree street is quite as well known to you as to myself and many others, and the status, or condition, of the street remains today as bad, or worse, as at any previous time. Meanwhile county roads have been, and are today being put into a condition of excellence that in comparison makes Peachtree street extended look shameful.

Month after month from the beginning of this year it has been held out that work would begin upon this street, as promised, but nothing of any permanent benefit has yet been done.

Why is this?

You know my attitude in regard to the matter, as I have heretofore expressed myself in most emphatic terms.

Will you please be so good as to advise me what will be done and when; not what we can expect; we have all we can absorb of expectation.

How this community can countenance an agitation by council for increase of the limits of the city when unable properly to take care of what is already contained therein with regard to decent thoroughfares and absolutely sanitary requirements of sewerage and water for miles of streets, "passeth all understanding." Yours very truly, (Signed. CHARLES A. CONKLIN.

Rev. J. W. Lee's Idea Indorsed.

Editor Constitution: Dr. Lee has the true idea of the monument to commemorate Uncle Remus. Let it be the home of Mr. Harris. I live away out in Texas, and Uncle Remus' rabbits, both cottontails and donkeys, scamper all around our place. We never see one that the children don't remark about "Uncle Remus," the Georgia wizzard, who introduced them to us. Now that I am here in Atlanta, I wouldn't go out of my way to see "Uncle Remus park," but I get on the car that goes by his house, just to see where the great man lived. What a rare pleasure it would be to enter the halls and the rooms where he worked and which he has made, in a sense, the property of all men. Dr. Lee told of his difficulty in getting into Carlisle's home in Chelsea. I had a little better luck at Emerson's home in Concord. When I was a young man I was an enthusiast about the whole group of New England literary demigods and thought Emerson was the primate of the conclave. I went to Concord, not to see a park, but to see where he lived, and Hawthorne's home and Louisa Alcott's and other famous shrines. When I reached Emerson's home, I found the front door open. Ringing the bell, I promptly stepped inside, and seeing the library open, walked in and sat down at Emerson's desk. I noted the books in his library and gave myself up to the mystic inspiration of the room where he worked. A rebel in Emerson's den! Invaded, too, without right. Some minutes elapsed before a servant girl appeared. She could not conceal her surprise at seeing a stranger in Emerson's library. I handed her my card and asked to see the lady of the house. I heard an indistinct conversation from the head of the stairs—distinct enough, however, as to its tone of surprise. When the girl returned I was standing in the front door awaiting the answer. She said the lady begged to be excused. Of course she did. I didn't expect to see her, and would have been really embarrassed to meet her. The only possible apology I could have made would have been that I was hypotized by Emerson's genius into emotional indiscretion, the polarity of my judgment being disturbed by the nearness of his shrine. My card was only to cover my retreat. I was a young man then. That is the way all young men feel. There are scores of Washington parks and colleges in America, but one Mt. Vernon. So of the Hermitage yonder in Tennessee. The home where a great man lived is a source of perpetual inspiration to the youth of the country. A monument, a park, a hospital, a college, any of these would be a compliment to the memory of Joel Chandler Harris, but as long as the home in which he lived and worked stands, whether it is owned by the public or remains a private possession, it will be the real monument of Uncle Remus. A hundred people will visit the home to one who will go to a park. A park would afford delight, but the home will quicken the patriotism and virtue of every visitor. If private reasons do not prevent, let it be the home that shall be his monument.

MISS JANE WHEATLY WILL PLAY HERE SOON

Walter Baldwin and his dramatic company will soon be in Atlanta to entertain. The attraction has been a triumphal success at the Bijou theater in Birmingham, playing to crowded houses of representative people at all of its performances, and making hits that roll on top of each other with each succeeding performance.

It is said by a number of Atlanta people who have seen the shows in Birmingham that there has been no stock production anywhere to eclipse the work of the Baldwin players.

There are a number of well-known players in the combination, but the warmest welcome will probably be accorded to Miss Jane Wheatley, who scored a great personal success as the leading lady of the Fawcett company at the Grand last summer.

It is expected that the opening bill here will be Channing Pollock's "The Bishop's Carriage," a dramatic success that scored tremendously in New York city, and that has never been seen in Atlanta.

REUNION OF VETERANS AT CUTHBERT WEDNESDAY

A Big Barbecue Will Be Served and Many Veterans Will Be Present.

Cuthbert, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Wednesday will be a great day in Cuthbert, being that of the reunion of veterans. The committees from city officials, veterans and United Daughters of the Confederacy, having the matter in charge, have been quite busy making extensive preparation. Hundreds of people are expected, and the reunion will be a typical one, in that no set speeches are to be made. A big barbecue, free to all, will be spread at South Side park.

In addition to this, amusements will be afforded the veterans and families during the day. It is planned to make the reunion one of the biggest things of the kind ever held in Cuthbert. The committees have specially invited all the veterans of this county, as well of the counties adjoining, together with their families, and an unusually large crowd is expected.

DISFRANCHISEMENT BILL WORRYING LEGISLATURE

When Will Measure Go Into Effect? If at Once May Prevent Legal Vote Being Cast in State, Says Mr. Hall.

Whether the disfranchisement amendment to the constitution, if ratified in October, as its supporters believe it will be, may be suspended going in operation until January 1, 1909, is the question which is now absorbing the attention of those who had the measure put up to the people last year.

At a meeting of the general judiciary committee of the house it was stated that in the event the amendment is adopted, as it now stands, it will go into effect at once, and no one, except those who qualify under its provisions, before the registrars of the state, can vote in the November elections.

It was further urged that the registration machinery of the state is inadequate to take care of the colossal registration in Georgia in so short a space of time, and this would prevent the Georgia vote from being cast or may be counted in the presidential election.

For a Relief Measure.

This measure took up the entire session of the committee, when it was debated at length, finally referring the matter to a special committee, composed of Messrs. Covington of Colquitt, Perry of Hall, and Alexander of DeKalb, to investigate and report a relief measure at the next session of the committee, Wednesday afternoon.

Representative Slade, of Muscogee, early this session introduced a measure to have the effect of the proposed amendment become operative on and after January 1, 1909. It was referred to the general judiciary committee, and there it was turned down on the declaration that a constitutional amendment cannot be amended by a statute. In the house it was so reported, and an effort was made to disagree to the report of the committee, but this failed, and it was rereferred to the general judiciary committee.

When Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, who volunteered to appear as sponsor for the measure, took the floor in its behalf the storm of objection brokue out, and it was declared that the disfranchisement matter had passed from the hands of the legislature when it had been passed by a two-thirds vote and had been signed by the governor.

Might Prevent Legal Vote.

Mr. Hall suggested that by a two-thirds vote of both houses it might be recalled, but this did not suit the committee. Mr. Hall declared that if it went into effect, when ratified, it would probably prevent a legal vote being cast in Georgia, for the registration lists could not be perfected so as to have voters qualify under its provisions, and if it was suspended until January 1, there was grave probability of the Georgia vote being cast out on the general election.

Mr. Perry, of Hall, chairman of the constitutional amendment committee, doubted the constitutionality of any act which sought to amend the pending amendment, now that it has passed from the general assembly.

Mr. Alexander asked the indulgence of the committee for fifteen minutes, during which time he would prepare a substitute to cover the question, but at the end of that time asked the appointment of a committee to investigate and report.

Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton, an advocate of the disfranchisement measure, declared that he thought a statute to set the time when the law was to go into effect was out of place, and would not do. He declared that any such action would jeopardize the disfranchisement amendment. He declared that a resolution asking the governor to put the date for the amendment to go into effect in his proclamation, soon to be issued, would be the only safe way to handle the delicate situation.

The solution by the committee will be awaited with interest.

VIEWS OF WILLIAM J. BRYAN REGARDING THE PRESIDENCY

New York, July 13.—William J. Bryan, the democratic nominee for president, has written an article entitled "My Conception of the Presidency," for the July 18 issue of Collier's Weekly.

Mr. Bryan says:

"The president's power for good or harm is often over-estimated. Our government is a government of checks and balances; power is distributed among different departments, and each official works in cooperation with others. In the making of laws, for instance, the president joins with the senate and the house; he may recommend, but he is powerless to legislate, except as a majority of the senate and the house concur with him. The senate and the house are also independent of each other, and each having a veto over the other; and the president has a veto over both, except that the senate and the house can, by a two-thirds vote, override the president's veto. The influence of the president over legislation is, therefore, limited; he shares responsibility with a large number of the peoples' representatives.

"Even in the enforcement of law he is hedged about with restrictions. He acts through an attorney general (whose appointment must be approved by the senate) and offenders against the law must be prosecuted in the courts, so that here again the responsibility is divided. In the making of important appointments, too, he must consult the senate, and is, of necessity, compelled to exercise care and discretion.

"The most important requisite in a president, as in other officials, is that his sympathy shall be with the whole people, rather than with any fraction of the population. He is constantly called upon to act in the capacity of a judge, deciding between the importunities of those who seek favors and the rights and interests of the public. Unless his sympathies are right the few are sure to have an advantage over the many, for the masses have no one to present their claims. They act only at elections; and must trust to their representatives to protect them from all their foes.

"Second, the president must have a knowledge of public questions and the ability to discern between the true and the false; he must be able to analyze the conditions and to detect the sophistries that are always employed by those who seek unfair advantages.

"He must possess the moral courage to stand against the influences that are brought to bear in favor of special interests. In fact, the quality of moral courage is as essential in a public official as either right sympathies or a trained mind.

"A president must have counselors, and to make wise use of counselors he must be open to conviction. The president is committed by his platform to certain policies, and the platform is binding; he is also committed to certain principles of government, and these he is in duty bound to apply in all matters that come before him.

"But there is a wide zone in which he must act upon his own judgment, and here he ought to have the aid of intelligent, conscientious and faithful advisers. The law provides these to certain extent in giving him a cabinet, and the vice president ought to be made a member of the cabinet ex-officio, in order, first, that the president may have the benefit of his wisdom and knowledge of affairs; and, second, that the vice president may be better prepared to take up the work of the president in case of a vacancy in the presidential office. There ought to be cordial relations also between the president and those who occuy positions of influence in the coordinate branches of the government, for our government is not a one-man government, but a government in which the chosen representatives of the people labor together to give expression to the will of the voters.

"But the presidency is the highest position in the world, and its occupant is an important factor in all national matters.

"If he is a devout believer in our theory of government, recognizes the constitutional distribution of powers, trusts thoroughly in the people and fully sympathizes with them in their aspirations and hopes, he has an opportunity to do a splendid work; he occupies a vantage ground from which he can exert a wholesome influence in favor of each forward movement.

"The responsibilities of the office are so great that the occupant ought to be relieved of every personal ambition save the ambition to prove worthy of the confidence of his countrymen; for this reason he ought to enter the position without thought or prospect of a second term.

"While the burdens of such an office are heavy, and while the labors of the office are exacting and exhausting, the field of service is large, and measuring its greatness by service, a president, by consecrating himself to the public weal, can make himself secure in the affections of his fellow citizens while he lives and create for himself a permanent place in the nation's history."

CORONER-ELECT GOETTE OF CHATHAM PASSES AWAY

He Had Foretold That He Would Never Live to Go Into Office.

Savannah, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—John A. Goette, coroner-elect of Chatham county, who won over Dr. John G. Kellar by the margin of one vote, after a recount in the recent primary, died yesterday morning of consumption. He had foretold that he would never live to go into the office he formerly held for a long term of years.

His death either means another primary or several candidates on the ticket for coroner in the October elections. It is stated that the county democratic executive committee will decide this week as to whether or not a primary may be held. It is expected that at least three candidates will make the race. They are Dr. H. B. Stanley, present coroner, who was beaten by both Goette and Kellar; Dr. Kellar and Colonel Waring Russell.

BAND DROWNED OUT SERMON.

Pastor Protests Against Troops Marching on Sunday.

Savannah, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Dr. W. N. Ainsworth, pastor of Wesley Monumental Methodist church, stopped the regular order of church service in his pulpit yesterday morning to utter a strenuous protest against the marching of troops through the city streets on Sunday. The protest was occasioned when the militia was on its way to the train for Chickamauga, and a lively brass band drowned out the church service for a short time.

HALL WANTS LEGISLATURE TO MEET IN THE WINTER

If Governor Smith or His Friends Object, the Bill Will Be Amended.

"Winter sessions" of the general assembly, to be held in January and February, instead of July and August, will be the case in Georgia, after January 1, 1909, if the measure which Mr. Hall of Bibb has drafted and proposes to introduce today, becomes a law.

The measure proposes that, beginning January 1, 1909, the time of meeting for the general assembly shall be the second Wednesday in January instead of the fourth Wednesday in June.

This will mean that the inauguration of the governor will take place on the first Saturday after the opening of the new general assembly. Also, it means that the present terms of the governor and other state house officers will be cut short by six months, under the terms of this law. Mr. Hall states no fight is being made on the administration or any one connected with it, and if the governor or his friends oppose the measure, an amendment will be offered or accepted having it go into effect on January 1, 1910.

New Emory Professor Arrives.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Dr. W. F. Melton, of Baltimore, recently elected to the chair of English at Emory college, arrived in Oxford with his wife and family yesterday. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon about 150 of the best autos in Atlanta will line up at Trinity church, on Whitehall street, to take all of the orphans in Fulton county and this vicinity on a big ride around Atlanta, arriving at Ponce de Leon at 4:30 o'clock, where refreshments will be served.

Children from the Decatur Orphans' Home, Baptist Orphans' Home at Hapeville, Hebrew Orphans' Home, Sheltering Arms and Home of the Friendless will all be placed in the big cars, together with teachers, matrons and superintendents, and form an automobile parade, taking in all of the city of Atlanta. The drum corps of the fire department will furnish the music for the procession.

On arriving at Ponce de Leon the automobiles will be dismissed, and refreshments will be served. Leebold, the peanut man, has donated 1,000 bags of "goobers" in salted form. Wing Candy Factory, Frank E. Block and Orr Stationery Company have also made donations in the shape of candy, cakes, crackers and flags.

All owners who have not listed their cars, whether large or small, are requested to be at Trinity church at 2:30 o'clock, in order that the parade may start promptly at 3 o'clock. About one hundred owners have formally listed their names, and about fifty more have intimated personally to the committee that they will be on hand. Of course, it is understood by every citizens that there is nothing exclusive about this outing for the children—the more cars the longer the parade, and the more satisfaction to everybody. The two-seated cars will be just as welcome as the eight-seated. There really should be at least two hundred cars on hand at 3 o'clock, when the procession starts.

W. O. Jones will take charge of the start, and see that cars, one by one, take their place at a distance of 100 feet behind the car ahead, which distance they are expected to keep over the entire cours.

Th children of the five homes—Decatur Orphans' Home, Baptist Orphans' Home at Hapeville; Hebrew Orphans' Home, Sheltering arms, Home of the Friendless—will assemble in the Sunday school room of Trinity church by 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the matrons, teachers and the various committees of ladies. When the automobiles have formed in Trinity avenue and at a standstill the children will be distributed, from one to eight, in the various cars, and will be supplied with tin horns, flags, etc. A committee of gentlemen will attend to the loading of the cars. When all is ready the parade will start out Whitehall street to Forsyth, back Forsyth to Mitchell, then into Whitehall street, across the viaduct, then Peachtree to Fifteenth street, thence to Piedmont avenue, down Piedmont avenue to Ponce de Leon circle, from there to Ponce de Leon park, where the children will be rapidly unloaded and the cars immediately dismissed. The children will then spend the afternoon in the park, where Mr. Cordoza has given free use of all the amusements and side shows.

A ladies' committee of probably one hundred will take charge of the children and distribute to them ice cream in cones, furnished by L. C. Tripp; candy, furnished by the Wing Candy Company and the Block Candy Company; crackers, furnished by H. L. Schlesinger; salted peanuts, furnished by Leebold, etc. Cash contributions to the entertainment of the children have been made by Sam Inman, B. A. Blount, Charles A. Conklin and others.

At such time as the managers of the various homes decide, the children will then be taken home, on separate street cars, provided by the Georgia Railway and Electric Company.

MEETS JULY 21 FOR PRIMARY

Call Issued for Meeting of the City Executive Committee.

The city executive committee will meet today week, Tuesday, July 21, in the council chamber, for the purpose of naming a date for a city primary and for the adoption of such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the holding of the primary.

The official call issued by Chairman W. W. Gaines is as follows:

"Atlanta, Ga., July 13, 1908.—To the Members of the City Executive Committee, Atlanta, Ga.—You are hereby respectfully called to meet in the council chamber, city hall, Tuesday, July 21, 1908, afternoon, for the purpose of naming date for the municipal primary of said city, the adoption of such rules, regulations and requirements as may be desired for the proper and legal government of said primary and for the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the session. Respectfully, W. W. GAINES, "Chairman.

"CHARLES N. ALLEN, "Secretary."

An afternoon paper yesterday published the statement that the primary may be held the day of the state election and that if there is to be a second primary it could be held on the day of the national election in November. Attention has been called to the law regulating the elections, and under the law it will not be possible to hold the primary on the day of the national election in time for the regular city election in December.

FOR A MEMORIAL TO UNCLE REMUS

Meeting at Grand Next Sunday Afternoon.

SUBCOMMITTEES TO REPORT

Executive Committee of Uncle Remus Association Meets and Starts to Work to Secure Memorial to Joel Chandler Harris. Meets Again Wednesday.

The executive committee of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association decided yesterday morning to hold a memorial meeting at the Grand next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The committee appointed a subcommittee to make a report at a meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock on what sort of a memorial would be best to do honor to the life and work of Joel Chandler Harris. This committee is as follows: J. R. Smith, chairman; J. K. Ottley, Dan Carey, Lee Smith, W. M. Slaton, W. R. Joyner, president of the association, and Fred J. Paxon, chairman of the executive committee.

A committee was also appointed to draw up the constitution and by-laws for the association, and it is as follows: Hubert L. Culberson, chairman, with the officers of the association.

The meeting of the executive committee was held in the mayor's office with the following members present:

W. R. Joyner, Dan Carey, W. C. Puckett, J. R. Smith, F. J. Paxon, Lee Smith, Roby Robinson, V. H. Kriegshaber, D. S. Walraven, J. K. Ottley, Hubert L. Culberson, W. M. Slaton, S. B. Turman, A. P. Stewart.

On motion of Mr. Turman, Mr. Paxon was chosen chairman of the executive committee.

Program for Meeting.

The following program for an Uncle Remus memorial meeting at the Grand next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, which had been outlined by Mayor Joyner, Mr. Carey and Dr. W. W. Landrum, was adopted:

Invocation by Dr. James W. Lee.

Song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Address, "Joel Chandler Harris in His Home"—By Rev. Father Jackson.

Address, "Mr. Harris as a Journalist"—By Charles J. Bayne.

Song, "Nearer My God to Thee."

Address, "Mr. Harris as a Patriot"—By Lucian L. Knight.

Address, "Mr. Harris a Brother of Humanity"—By Dr. W. W. Landrum.

Benediction, by Dr. David Marx.

Mr. Carey stated that the park board would furnish the music for the memorial meeting by having Wedemeyer's band to play at the Grand Sunday instead of giving the regular Sunday afternoon concert at Grant park.

After a discussion of the proposed memorial to Mr. Harris, the committee decided that a final report should be made at Sunday afternoon's meeting.

Mr. Robinson said that it might be well to let the newspapers publish coupons, upon which those who contributed to the fund could have a vote.

Mr. Ottley thought that such a procedure might cause a division of sentiment which would hurt the cause.

Mr. Stewart said that he believed the very best thing to be done was to secure Mr. Harris' home, "The Sign of the Wren's Nest," at West End, and make that a memorial park.

Mr. Lee Smith was of the opinion that a fine park site would be the Nelson home on North Boulevard.

Mr. Carey's Suggestion.

Mr. Carey made a statement which seem to find favor with all. He said that Mr. Harris' home could be made a memorial park, and the house and study could be preserved just as Mr. Harris left it. A drinking fount for man, birds and beast could be erected as a monument in the front yard, with a statue of Mr. Harris as the centerpiece.

"We would then have," said Mr. Carey, "Uncle Remus' home kept as are the homes of Longfellow, Shakespeare, Sir Walter Scott and others, and we would have at the same time a park and a monument."

Mr. Robinson said he heartily agreed with Mr. Carey.

"People who know of Mr. Harris throughout the country," said Mr. Robinson, "would visit the home whenever they came to Atlanta."

The committees mentioned above were then appointed.

Mr. Carey said he had a letter from the manager of the Orpheum theater, stating that the first performance in September would be a benefit to the Uncle Remus memorial fund. A telegram from Tate, Ga., stated that the children of that town would furnish what would be necessary for a monument or statue of Mr. Harris. The Fulton County Daily Report offered to publish free of charge any legal notices that the association might want.

The meeting adjourned to meet again Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to hear the report of the two subcommittees.

Mercer's Large Summer School.

Macon, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—The work of the summer school at Mercer university has been pushed into another month, and, with a largely increased attendance. The work indicates that there will be a large number of young men prepared for the classes at the opening of the fall session, and President Jameson and Professor E. T. Holmes, who is in charge, have found much in the summer school to make them happy over the prospects for the fall opening. A well-organized movement to bring a large student body next fall is now under way.

AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE; ITS RAPID GROWTH

Perhaps no educational institution in the south has made more rapid growth than the Agnes Scott College, at Decatur, Georgia, just six miles east of Atlanta. Its physical properties have increased to such an extent that they are now numbered among the best in the southern states.

The teaching ability furnished by Agnes Scott College is of a high standing, and parents and guardians intrusting their daughters to this school may have the assurance that the best in morals, culture and education will be given them.

The next session will begin early in September. You may write for information and catalog to F. H. Gaines, D.D., President, Decatur, Ga.

BURIED BY HYPNOTIST.

Columbus Negro "Buried Alive"—Negroes Excited.

Columbus, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—Negroes are rather excited over the "burial alive" today of one of their number, this being a feature of a performance given at a tent by a hypnotist. A man named Jackson has been thrown into a trance and the hypnotist guarantees that he will sleep a week.

To carry out the idea he has been placed in a coffin and buried, although air is admitted o him by a funnel-like contrivance, and a view of the sleeper's face, trough the glass headpiece of the coffin, can be had. The payment to the man's wife of $100 by the hypnotist is serving to allay her anxiety during the time her husband is taking his underground nap.

Telephone Talks

No. 1.

WE want our subscribers and the public generally to know something of the details—the inside workings of the telephone business. We want our relations to be, not as the usual relations of buyer and seller, but such that you will know personally about our business as it relates to you; our advantages and difficulties; your benefits and annoyances.

We have laid bare every feature of our business to the railroad commissions of several states. In the newspaper reports many important features have been considered dry and of no news value and these have remained in the state archives as of interest only to the statistician.

We have bought considerable newspaper space and we propose to tell you all about the telephone business in general, and in detail as it relates to you personally. If we do not appear sufficiently clear on any point we will be glad to elaborate if any telephone user will request us to do so.

In the meantime we hope you will take occasion to visit any of our telephone exchanges. Our manager will be glad to show you through and explain every feature of the operating. Such a visit will give you a better understanding of our business.

CRACKERS BLANKED BY MEMPHII IN FIRST

BILL PITCHED GOOD BATTLE

Barring First and Second Rounds of Disaster.

Crackers Could Do Little or Nothing With Chappelle, Who Allowed His Hits to Come Only Here and There—He Had Good Support.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

Atlanta in Memphis.
Birmingham in Mobile.
Montgomery in New Orleans.
Nashville in Little Rock.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Memphis 4, Atlanta 0.
Little Rock 3, Nashville 3. Thirteen innings.
New Orleans 5, Montgomery 4.
Mobile 4, Birmingham 3.

Memphis, Tenn., July 13.—(Special.)—Barring the first two rounds, Viebahn pitched a remarkable game in the opening of the series with the locals today, but the Turtles gathered four runs during this time, and the game was lost, as big Bill Chappelle, the former army sergeant for Uncle Sam during the Cuban campaign, exhibited perfect control, and allowed the Champions but four scattered hits, which did not produce anything resembling a run.

Chappelle twirled what the local people regarded as a remarkable game. Two rapidly executed double plays helped his own efforts, which were crowned by nothing approaching a pass, the fielding behind him was errorless, too, which enabled Chappelle to finish the nine rounds with but two extra men facing him in the entire route, one Georgian being left on base in the fourth, and another in the final inning.

Dyer was the distinguished visitor to get as far as second. He was the only visitor to reach that station, none getting to third, and but four to first.

The first three innings were without incident, for Manager Smith's proteges, although they worked hard to get results. In the fourth, however, Dyer rapped a low traveling liner to Murphy, and took second. Winters and Becker couldn't help, as they lifted flies to Cranston.

Fox opened the fifth with a single to right, but was forced by Jordan, when he grounded to Cranston, and Jordan and Hurlburt were doubled up when the big backstop hammered a grounder to Redmond

Castro Hit It Out.

Castro kept peppering until he planted a single in center as a starter for the sixth inning. Viebahn fouled out to Owens, and the perfect fielding of Cranston, Redmond and Carey again retired the Champs, when Moran hammered a grounder straight at Cranston.

Moran bagged a single in the ninth, but was forced by Dyer.

Singles by Murphy and Cranston, sandwiched by Baerwald's sacrifice, produced the first local run, and Moran's misjudgment of Carey's long fly in the second, followed by an error by Hurlburt. Viebahn hitting Redmond, Chappelle's single, and a bunt by Murphy, helped to the last trio in the second.

Gloom was cast over the Atlanta group, when Mayor Joyner's telegram announced that Roy Castleton was suffering from typhoid fever at home. Manager Smith is casting about for his successor.

HERE'S ANOTHER STORY OF THE McCALL'S GAME

There appeared in Sunday's Constitution an account of the Southern Railway-McCall's game which gave the score as 6 to 5 in favor of the railroad team. According to Preston Winburn, of the McCall's team, this score was incorrect. He gives the score as 16 to 15 for his team in the following card:

"This card is written as a correction of a notice of a ball game played Saturday afternoon between McCalls' Crossing baseball Club and the Southern Shops team. The notice gave the result of the game as 7 to 6 in favor of the Southern. The correct score was, McCall's 16, Southern 15. We have a good team, and believe in fair play. Any amateur team that desires a game will confer a favor by addressing Preston Winburn, Equitable building, phone No. 353 Main."

The Norfolk, Va., Crack, Who Was Beaten by Thornton Yesterday.

THORNTON KEEPS TITLE BY BESTING WHITEHEAD

Nat Thornton yesterday afternoon backed up the oft-repeated assertion that he is about the best tennis player in the south by refusing to yield the singles title to Whitehead, of Norfolk, Va., in the last match of the southern tourney, which was in progress at East Lake all last week, and ran over into yesterday because of the crowded program.

It required but four sets to decide the challenge round. The score was 6-1; 6-2; 3-6; 7-5.

With much improvement over the form he displayed in the doubles Saturday, Thornton waded in, and in the first two sets played the Virginian off the courts, giving him but one game in the first set, and two in the second. Then he suffered a severe letdown, due mainly to the excessive heat, and Whitehead copped the next set, 6-3.

The afternoon was sultry. The heat told on both players, but Thornton nearly went entirely down and out after the third set. He came around all right after an intermission, but still showed weakness in the beginning of the final set.

The result of this was that Whitehead, by magnificent playing, took five games to the local's two before the champion showed his old time form.

Then Thornton grabbed his second wind, and by strong uphill play, made a deuce set out of it, and then won the next two games, retaining the title and defeating a man who went through the hard tourney as the result of great tennis ability.

When Thornton went to the net his opponent was able to do little with him, that is, when he was in his true form, and Whitehead could get but few shots past him. He was also superior at the back-line game, and deserved to win, for he outplayed the tourney winner.

The match was witnessed by a large crowd, who cheered both players throughout the thrilling match that began at 4 o'clock and finished at 5:45, an hour and a quarter of play.

The match wound up the tourney. Atlanta players getting two of the titles, Miss Jones and Mr. Jones in mixed doubles, and Nat Thornton in the singles.

Thornton now has two legs on the cup.

NEW PLAYERS ARE COMING FOR ATLANTA RAG CHASERS

The Atlanta club has raided the Virginia league, and stripped it of much of its presentable talent.

President Heisman, just returned, announced yesterday that he had secured three new players, two for immediate delivery, and had options on a number of others, who look prime for the plucking, but are not ready to flit southward until the Virginia season is over.

There is only one drawback in the happy news. Not a pitcher is yet in sight. Every man looked over had a price that reminded one of the wartime salaries paid to players, and the best men were not available at all, because they are on the leading teams, and the fans would murder the owners should they dispose of them at this period of the game.

The men who will report immediately are Herbert Smith, a catcher, and Clayton, an infielder, while Kirkpatrick, a third baseman, is landable at any time.

Smith is now playing his second year with the Norfolk team. He is 24 years old, six feet, weighs 190 pounds, and is batting around .263. Coach Heisman says this young catcher is the goods. He declares that he throws to bases as well as Kling, and is almost as good on fouls as McMurray. He is glad to come to Atlanta and get a chance to show his speed.

Clayton has been playing second and third base for the Roanoke team. He is 23 years old, weighs 170 pounds, and is 5 feet 10 inches. He is tied for the leadership of the league, batting about .300.

Kirkpatrick, third baseman, was bought from the Richmond team, but has been playing with the Lynchburg club. He is 22 years old, weighs 175, and is about 5 feet 10 1-2 inches. Coach Heisman says he is a natural ball player, a comer, and all he needs is a little seasoning.

The local club also secured options on several other players for next year.

Owing to the elimination of Castleton, due to sickness, Atlanta is angling for another pitcher, and hopes to announce the recall of a favorite within a few days.

TEAM WAS LEFT IN CHATTANOOGA

Rosebuds Meet Athletics in First Game This Afternoon.

There was no game between Chattanooga and the Athletic club yesterday, but there will be one today.

The Chattanoogans failed to catch their train yesterday morning and consequently could not arrive in time to play, but they are here all right now, among them Catcher Buchanan, who is well known here for his baseball and football playing at Tech.

The Athletics' game with Americus drew about 400 head per and the five games with the Tennesseans promise to do even better, as there is nothing in the way of competition going on.

The Athletics are strong, and so are the boys from Chattanooga. It is the old Rosebud team of the city league there. They withdrew from the league a short time ago and went to playing independent ball.

Last week the Rosebuds played Moffett's Knoxville team, a mighty good one, and broke even with them in four games, two of which went to thirteen innings.

The game today will be called at 4 o'clock at Ponce de Leon park. There will be another every day in the week.

The Chattanooga line-up follows: Pitchers, Crump, Myers, Gaston and Payne; catcher, Buchanan; first base, Manes; second base, "Skinny" Shipp, well known here from football performances; shortstop, Norman; third base, Crump, and outfielders, Freeman, Parr and McDonald.

CHATTANOOGA ASKS FRANCHISE

President Chambers, of Montgomery, Is the Negotiator.

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—Because he was successful in consummating the deal by which Mobile secured a franchise in the Southern League, President R. J. Chambers, of the Montgomery Association, has been commissioned to buy the Little Rock franchise for Chattanooga persons. Mr. Chambers admitted such a report was true. He said:

"I am authorized to buy the Little Rock franchise. I am authorized to make the offer on behalf of Chattanooga, although I am under obligations to keep secret the name of the man who gave me the authority. But the offer is bona fide, and if any reasonable amount will buy the franchise it will be bought and placed in Chattanooga."

Hapeville 10, Haasville 3.

The fast Hapeville team defeated the Haasville team on the latter's grounds Saturday by the score of 10 to 3. The features of the game were the heavy batting of the Hapeville team and the wonderful playing of R. Johnson at third base for Haasville. The line-up of the Hapeville team follows: Lewis, third base; L. McChargue, center field; Smith, shortstop; Palmer, catcher; A. McChargue, first base; McIntyre, right field; Couch, second base; Ramos, left field.

LOCALS LOSE SOUTHPAW FOR REST OF THE SEASON

It is not probable that Roy Castleton will pitch for the Crackers again this season, and in that fact lies the toughest piece of luck that has hit Roy and the team this season.

The southpaw always prided himself on keeping in condition, and tried to be ever ready to take his turn when it came and he generally did. But, of course, anyone is liable to sickness and the Mormon drew the hard luck to have typhoid fever, which, when the recovers in a month or six weeks, will leave him so weak that he can hardly get in shape again this year.

He was a man who could be counted upon to win when he went in the box, and his illness leaves the pitching staff in a bad way, with Ford the only remaining steady winner, as he promises to be from the way he has been traveling recently.

It is regretted that Castleton is ill, for personal reasons, and also because the team loses him when he is badly needed.

It will be extremely difficult to fill his place on the staff.

Will Test New Pistol Law.

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—Constable Church, of Madison county, will make a test of the new pistol law. He was arrested for having in his possession a pistol less than twenty-four inches long, and will carry the case through the courts.

It has been understood all along that the law officers would be compelled to violate the act, in order to protect themselves, and they have not been obeying it. However, it is thought best to get a ruling favorable to them if possible. The Sheriffs' Association has the matter in hand.

THE greatest value in the Classified Columns of The Constitution is in the fact that the best positions and the best employees are secured through these columns. There may not be the kind of a position that you want advertised every day, but when the kind of a position that you are looking for is advertised, you are certain that it will be announced in The Constitution. The clever young man and woman know the value of The Constitution. It is the paper they read.

Employers have been quick to learn this, and now when they want the best employees to be obtained in Atlanta, they either answer the Situation Wanted advertisements in The Constitution or they put one of their own advertisements in the Help Want columns. You can do this easily. Simply phone 109 and it will do the rest.

COTTON LOWER 2 TO 11 POINTS

Disappointing Cables and Unsatisfactory News.

A Factor in the Decline Was Weakness of Southern Spot Markets in Reducing Stocks Before the New Crop Comes In.

New York, July 13.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2@4 points, cables being disappointing and representing, instead of the expected advance of 3 to 5 1-2 points, an advance of but 2@5 points. Following the opening the decline in the new crop positions was increased to a matter of 2@16 points, with only a few feeble rallies during the session, except for one sharp, midday rise of 5 points on covering. The selling was due to unsatisfactory accounts from spinning sources and to generally favorable crop news, supplemented by reports of continued weakness in southern spot markets, through an effort to reduce stocks of old cotton in anticipation of the new crop movement. There was some tendency to cover, in view of a report by a southern newspaper, to the effect that in the Atlantic states and in southern Texas the crop had deteriorated, owing to rain. Selling was further arrested by reports that the recent leading bear in this had changed front, and was now largely long of October and the later months. The market was finally steady, with July 1 point net lower, and the rest of the list 2@11 points net lower and sales estimated at 75,000 bales.

Receipts at the ports today 6,055 bales, against 8,169 last week, and 1,848 last year. For the week 30,000 bales, against 33,287 last week, and 10,361 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 1 points lower; middling uplands 11.10; middling gulf 11.35; sales 100; futures opened and closed steady.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 13.—Cotton spots quiet and easy. Low ordinary 8½c, nominal; ordinary 7 5-16c, nominal; good ordinary 8¾; low middling 10c; middling 11c; good middling 11 7-16c; middling fair 11 15-16c; fair 12 9-16c, nominal. Sales 325 bales; receipts 715; stock 54,299. Futures opened steady 5 to 9 points below the close Saturday. The opening at Liverpool had been unfavorable, exceedingly bearish crop accounts having been received from many points throughout the belt. Following the opening the decline continued, and when reports were received from New York to the effect that a large operator had withdrawn from the market temporarily after having covered his short contracts, there was a further recession in values. Many of the bearish crop accounts were from Texas, one point in that state reporting that a ginning company had to keep running night and day in order to keep pace with the new cotton coming in. At the close, which was steady, the active months were 14 points below the close Saturday.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, July 13.—Cotton, spot dull; prices 1 point higher; American middling fair 6.91; good middling 6.55; middling 6.27; low middling 5.89; good ordinary 5.31; ordinary 4.91. The sales of the day were 5,000 bales, of which 200 were for speculation and export, and included 4,700 American. Receipts 9,000 bales, including 2,800 American. Futures opened steady and closed easy.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 13.—The dry goods market opened quiet, with prices holding firm. Lines of men's wear will be opened on Thursday and Monday. Lines of staple hosiery for spring were opened during the day. Prices rule about the same as current prices for fall deliveries. Staple printed goods are still being ordered steadily. Raw silk is a shade easier with the demand light.

Coffee.

New York, July 13.—The coffee market opened quiet and unchanged, there being nothing in the news at hand to warrant a renewal of operations by traders on either side. During the session there was a notable lack of interest apparent, and for the first time in several years no actual business was transacted. The absence of French cables contributed to the dullness. The close was inactive, net unchanged to an advance of 5 points.

Spot dull; No. 7 Rio 6 5-16; Santos No. 4 8½; mild coffee quiet and firm; Cordova 9¾@12½.

Wool.

St. Louis, July 13.—Wool firm; medium grades, combing and clothing 18@30; light fine 16@16½; heavy fine 11½18; tub washed 20@27.

Swift & Co.'s sales of fresh beef in Atlanta for the week ending Saturday, July 11, averaged 7.05 cents per pound.

STEEL STOCKS HIGHEST OF YEAR

Increased Demand for Stocks Has Influence.

Fine Outlook for Business and Industry Is the Encouraging News Reported — Time Money Market Was Firmer.

New York, July 13.—The stock market gave evidence today of the relief afforded by the sales to take profits in the latter part of last week, that process apparently having been completed. The contraction in the volume of the dealings was a warning of the lapse of operations further into professional hands, with this completion of a customary cycle of a speculative episode. While the market was narrow there was a perceptible growth of demand for stocks from new sources, with the effect of keeping the tone firm to strong. Last week's events in the financial district had a cheering effect on the general business and industry of the country, and this was reflected back today in the encouraging views of the outlook for business and industry. Even a broad securities market showed the influence of the improvement reported last week in Wall street. How far this influence might be responsible for the growth of the buying orders for stocks received in New York today was not altogether clear, but the concrete fact of such buying was testified to by foreign commission houses. Some of this was under suspicion of a demand from shorts left uncovered by some heavy selling here last week and executed in this round-about fashion for the purpose of disguising its origin. This buying was especially prominent in Union Pacific and United States Steel, and reports cabled from London asserted that continental centers were sending orders for the latter stock to the London market. The effect was to carry the price of United States Steel to the highest touched so far this year.

The time money market was firmer as a result of some large transactions in execution and in prospect. The subtreasury's debit balance of $3,423,288 at the clearing house reflected some large disbursements on account of government expenditures as well as heavy redemption of bank notes and payments on account of new gold from Seattle. The banks are completing the repayment deposits returnable by July 15, under the call of secretary of the treasury. It is estimated that $7,000,000 already have been turned over by the New York banks, and that they will increase the amount to $15,000,000, and perhaps $20,000,000, by payments on account of out-of-town correspondents and by surrender beyond the limits called for by the treasury in the unwillingness to meet the 1 per cent interest now charged on government deposits. On Thursday is payable the final installment of subscriptions to the new Union Pacific bonds, which will call for upwards of $20,000,000. There was a firm tone in the early foreign exchange market in spite of these prospective demands on the local money market. Paris again took the bulk of gold arrivals in London, and private discount rates there were firmer in consequence. The strength in the wheat market and the reports which accompanied it of damage to the crop in the northwest were ignored in the stock market, the northwestern grangers sharing fully in the day's strength. Meanwhile much attention was given to the published exchanges between Vice President Brown, of the New York Central, and Secretary Hoffe, of the Manufacturers' Association of New York, on the subject of an effort to make a general advance of 10 per cent in freight charges by the railroads. The contention of the railroad official that this advance was a necessary alternative to a cut in wages, which would "produce one of the greatest strikes in history, entailing a national disaster," did not lose its serious import with the declaration that the Manufacturers' Association would appeal to the interstate commerce commission to declare the increase in rates discriminatory and unjust.

EXCESSIVE HEAT SENDS WHEAT UP

Caused Advance of More Than Two Cents.

September Delivery Closed at Net Gain of One and Three-Quarters. The Market Was Active and Strong All Day—Corn Off One-Quarter Cent.

Chicago, July 13.—Scorching weather in the northwest caused an advance of more than 2 cents in the price of wheat on the local exchange today. At the close the September delivery showed a net gain of 1⅝@1¾c. Corn was off ¼c. Oats were up 1⅜c. Provisions were unchanged to 27½c higher.

The wheat market was active and strong all day. Reports from Minnesota and the Dakotas, owing to the continuance of dry, hot weather, furnished the chief reason for the bullish sentiment which prevailed throughout the entire session. Estimates on the damage already done placed the injuries at from 25 to 50 per cent on the entire crop. A 3-cent advance at Minneapolis seemed to confirm partly those reports. A poor demand from the cash grain and liberal realizing by local longs tended to curb bullish enthusiasm late in the day, caused some reaction from the high point. The market, however, closed strong. September opened ⅝@¾c higher at 90⅜ to ⅞ advanced to 92⅝@¾c and closed at 91⅝@¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 137,700 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 265 cars against 360 last week and 591 a year ago.

Ideal weather conditions for the growing crop caused moderate weakness in the corn barket despite a sharp advance in wheat and oats. Several leading longs were among the principal sellers, and shorts were the chief buyers. Trading in general was rather quiet. The market closed easy at the lowest point. September opened ⅛ to ⅜c higher at 74⅞ to 75⅛c, sold off to 74⅝c and closed at 74½c. Local receipts 181 cars, 8 of contract grade.

The excessive heat in the northwest brought an active general demand for oats and caused an advance of more than 2c in the price of all deliveries. A leading bull was one of the chief buyers, and commission houses also bought freely. The market closed strong. September opened ⅜ to ⅝c higher at 42¼c to ⅝c, advanced to 44c and closed at 43⅜c. Local receipts 96 cars.

Provisions were active and strong the greater part of the day. Pork and ribs were in especially good demand, but trade in lard was rather slow. A 10 to 15c increase in live hogs and the strength of grains were the principal bullish influences. At the close September pork was up 27½c at $16.72½. Lard was unchanged at $9.65. Ribs were 5@7½c higher at $9.15.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 97 cars; corn 224 cars; oats 185 cars; hogs 16,000 head.

OLYMPIC GAMES BEGIN IN LONDON

International Sporting Event Opened by King Edward.

TWO AMERICANS TO FRONT

Sullivan and Sheppard in the Final Heat of 1,500 Metres Race—The Americans Protest Against Injustice of the English Drawing for Heats.

London, July 13.—The American team of athletes are well satisfied with the results obtained by them on the first day of the fifth revival of the Olympic championship games, which opened at the stadium here today, having got two men, J. P. Sullivan and Melvin W. Sheppard, both of the Irish-American Athletic Club, into the final heat which will be run tomorrow of the 1,500 meters races. They were unfortunate, however, in the first heat, when two of their best men at th edistance had to run against each other, and these same conditions prevailed in the second heat, when J. P. Halstead, New York Athletic Club, was beaten by his team partner, Melvin W. Sheppard, by half a yard.

Injustice Pointed Out.

The Americans point out the injustice caused by the English drawing for heats as shown by the fact that Halstead, although he ran much faster than the winners of the other heats, is eliminated from the final as he finished second.

Charles M. Daniels New York Athletic Club, although entered in the 400-metre swim, did not start, having decided to reserve himself for the shorter distances. L. Budd Goodwin, New York Athletic Club, was the only other American entered, but he was unpaced.

The other events of the day was the four-heat tandem bicycle race of 2,000 meters, and though some of the Americans were entered in this event, none of them reached the scratch.

An incident which is causing much talk in sporting circles is the failure of the Olympic committee to have either the American or the Swedish flags displayed in the stadium. The Americans remedied this omission somewhat by bringing out many of their own stars and stripes, but Sweden, although Crown Prince Gustave was present, was represented by but the single flag carried by that nation's athletes.

The Americans have decided to formally protest against the eligibility of Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian runner, but if the committee should decide to allow him to run, they will abide by that decision, so as not to interfere with the success of the sports.

Rain Interfered With Opening.

Rain interfered badly today with the opening, and, although it cleared off before the hour set for the formal ceremoney, the attendance fell short of expectations. The seating capacity of the stadium is upwards of 70,000, and while the covered stands contained sections which were well filled, there were many vacant spaces. In fact, if it had not been for the American and colonial contingents, which were there to cheer their respective countrymen, and the sections around the royal box, which were occupied by society, it would have been a very small affair so far as attendance was concerned.

In some of the events, too, the contestants appeared affected by the adverse weather conditions, but in other events, particularly the 1,500-meter race in which the greatest interest centered the men were up to their form, and twice during the afternoon the record for the distance was smashed. Melvin W. Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, of New York, was the first to accomplish the trick, when, in the second heat, pressed hard by his teammate, J. P. Halstead, of the New York Athletic Club, he ran the distance in the splendid time of 4:05, just 2-5 of a second faster than that made by P. D. Lightbody, of the University of Chicago, at the Olympic games at St. Louis, in 1904.

Americans Beat Good Men.

The two Americans in this heat beat a number of good men, including G. Butterfield, the English 4-mile champion, who finished a bad third.

J. P. Sullivan, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and Lightbody, who were first and second, respectively, in the first heat of this event, took longer to cover the distance, but they were not pressed, and doubtless could have done better if it had been necessary. Meadows, of Canada, set out to make the pace in this event, but Lightbody went to the front in the stretch, and seemed a likely winner, until Sullivan, with a fine burst of speed, passed him a few yards from the tape.

The best performance of the day, however, was that of M. F. Hallows, an Oxford Blue, who cut a full two seconds off the record much to the surprise of everybody, as Hallows always has been at his best at the 3 miles, and 1,500 meters was considered too short for him. He is now thought to be the most serious rival of the Americans in the final, which will be run tomorrow.

Through their defeat by Sheppard and Sullivan, Halstead and Lightbody failed to qualify. H. L. Coe, of the University of Michigan, made a strong bid for victory in the fourth heat, but he was unable to keep up with E. V. Loney, of England, although the time was not particularly brilliant. Coe finished second.

The only other American in the race, F. H. Riley, of the Irish-American Athletic, ran unplaced in his heat, the third, which was that in which Hallows made the record.

Arrival of King.

Shortly after 3 o'clock in the afternoon the royal box, which had been fitted up for the accommodation of forty persons, began to fill up, the early arrivals including the crown prince and princess of Sweden and their children; the crown prince and princess of Greece; the duke and duchess of Connaught, and the duke and duchess of Argyl. A short time afterwards the playing of the national anthem by a band of the Grenadier Guards announced the arrival of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria, with their suites, who had been driven in state from Buckingham palace. Lord Desborough, chairman of the council of the British Olympic Association, welcomed their majesties at the entrance to the stadium and presented the members of the international Olympic council.

As the king entered the royal box, a bugler gave a signal, the gates leading to the competitors' quarters flew open, and the athletes marched out under the banners of their respective nations. The procession was formed in alphabetical order, Austria leading, with the exception that the English-speaking races came last. The latter section was led by the American team, with Garrels, of the Chicago Athletic Association, at its head, carrying the stars and stripes. The British colonies were directly behind the Americans, and at the end the United Kingdom, as hosts. As the procession came into the stadium each country received applause, that for America and the colonies being particularly enthusiastic.

The Athletes Parade.

Before the arrival of King Edward, the athletes paraded around the ground. The representatives of the United Kingdom looked formidable, with their array of 513 men.

The nearest approach to this number was France's 219 contestants. Sweden came next with 169, and then Hungary with 154 men. The Americans would have had the next largest army with 148, but Trainer Murphy refused to allow the men to come up from Brighton for the ceremony. In all, twenty-one countries were represented, and among this gathering Turkey was represented with one competitor.

The athletes having taken up positions facing the royal box, the Americans in the center, flanked by the Canadians and the Englishmen, Lord Desborough marched up with the members of the executive committee, and said:

"Will your majesty graciously declare the Olympic games opened?" In reply, the king said:

"I declare the Olympic games of London open." At the completion of this ceremony, cheering broke out from all parts of the stadium. After the demonstration had died down, the athletes gave three cheers for his majesty, and then marched past the royal box.

The men made a splendid appearance. The Americans were among those who wore street clothes, but even thus attired the size of the men evoked much favorable comment, Ralph Rose, of the Olympic Club, San Francisco, and Lee J. Talbott, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, and the other giants of the team towering over a majority of those whom they are to meet.

Summary of Events.

Charles Daniels, New York Athletic Club, although entered in the 400-meter swimming race, did not start, having decided to reserve himself for the shorter distance. L. Budd Goodwin, of New York Athletic Club, was the only other American entered, but he was unplaced.

The first heat of the 400-meter swimming event was won by Battersby, United Kingdom; Lastorres, Hungary, second; L. Budd Goodwin, New York Athletic Club, third. Time, 5.48. The second heat was won by Foster, England. Time, 5:04 4-5.

The other event of the day was the four-heat tandem bicycle race of 2,000 meters, and though some of the Americans were entered in this event, none of them reached the scratch.

The big events to be contested for tomorrow, in which the Americans are entered, are the hammer throwing, the final of the 1,500-meter run, and the preliminary heats of the three-mile run.

J. E. DEVAUGHN PASSES AWAY.

Death Has Called Pioneer Citizen of Montezuma.

Montezuma, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—J. E. DeVaughn died at his home in this city at 1:40 a. m. today after suffering for three weeks with a complication of troubles.

General DeVaughn was one of the wealthiest and most influential men in this section of Georgia, and his death has cast a shadow of sorrow over this entire community.

He was born near Jonesboro, in Clayton county, sixty-eight years ago.

In the early stages of the war between the states he volunteered his services to his country, and was elected first lieutenant Second cavalry, Wharton's brigade. He was captured by the enemy, and for nearly two years was held a prisoner on Johnson's island, after which he was promoted to captain of company F, Second Georgia cavalry, which title he held until the close of the war, when he received his honorable discharge.

Two years ago he was elected brigadier general of the western division of Georgia, and at the time of his death was a member of Governor Hoke Smith's military staff, being recommended for this place by General Clement A. Evans.

Mr. DeVaughn came to Montezuma in 1866, when he married Miss Sallie V. McLendon. Nine children were born to them, five of whom are now living. In 1883 his wife died, and in 1884 he married Miss Mary E. Porter, of Griffin, who survives him.

Mr. DeVaughn had accumulated a considerable fortune in his days, and owned large plantations in nearly every state south of the Mason and Dixon line. He had been very successful as a farmer and merchant.

The remains were interred in Felton's cemetery at 4 o'clock this afternoon, the funeral being conducted from the Baptist church, in charge of the Macon County Camp, United Confederate Veterans.

He was buried in his confederate uniform, which he wore at the recent reunion in Birmingham.

Rev. A. J. Cheves conducted the funeral services.

$1,000 Tax on Near Beer.

Cartersville, Ga., July 13.—(Special.)—The city council of Cartersville, in a recent meeting, passed an ordinance placing a tax or license of $1,000 upon "near beer," "Bud," "Pabst," "Acme," and all other drinks that required a government internal revenue tax in order to be sold.

The near beer problem has been under discussion in this city for some time, and a number of places have opened recently where the beverage is on sale.

CARS STOPPED BY EXPLOSION

Terrific Explosion in Power House of Street Car Company.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly before 6 o'clock, a terrific explosion shook one of the big rotaries of the power house of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company, on Butler street, and filled the large building with a dense smoke. As a result the entire system of trolley cars was put out of commission for about ten minutes.

Engineer C. K. Weekly discovered the trouble and spread the alarm to the others at the plant. He saw a ring of flame about one of the machines collecting rings. Before the current could be cut off, an explosion like a thunder clap issued from the rotary, and a menacing flame shot upward.

The rotary in question receives the electric current from Bull Sluice, sending it out to the street car system all over town. The current was immediately shut off from the cars, and people all over the city wondered why the system had been rendered so abruptly inoperative.

In ten minutes one of the giant engines of the power house was started running, and the current was at once restored.

The damage to the rotary was small, and will be repaired in a short while. The officials at the plant state that the incoming current simply got beyond control, and went aground from the machine.

On hearing the report, the officers at the police station, which is just in front of the electric plant, thought some of the prisoners in the cells were attempting an escape and started a quick investigation.

POLICE ARE ON TRAIL OF THIEF OF WHISKERS

If you see anybody wearing forty wigs, goatees, beards, and side whiskers, notify the police and receive a reward of $10. Also, if you meet anybody disguised as a cowboy, an Indian, or Santa Claus, turn in the alarm.

A letter received by the police from L. Engel, of Lookout mountain, Tennessee, announces the loss of the above hirsute appurtenances. Engel thinks the man who relieved him of the makeups is in Atlanta. Ladies' wigs are also mentioned in the lot, all colors, for any occasion or impersonation.

It is presumed from Engel's letter that he has tried other sources for the return of his lost property. He says the Chattanooga detectives are only good to eat, drink and draw salary.

The Atlanta sleuths will do their best to earn a better classification, although they admit that the possibilities for a successful disguise with the forty wigs, beards, etc., are almost unlimited.

Edgewood Ave. Property

Between Courtland and Piedmont we have a vacant lot, size 50x85, on which the owner will erect a building to suit the requirements of responsible lessee. The location of this lot is very desirable and the large amount of floor space on each floor of a building would be a distinct advantage. See us for full particulars.

FORREST & GEORGE ADAIR

DARGAN PARK LOTS

Those beautiful Woodlawn lots are for the first time being offered at very reasonable prices. If you want a choice, shady lot, with east front, we could offer you nothing better. There has been a great demand for these lots, but the owner refused all kinds of offers, but has now put them on the market at prices that will sell them all in the next few days. Corner Lucile and Lawton streets.

Thebest

"The right word in the right place," and an ideal springs forth to turn back a fleeing army; to change defeat's dumb misery into victory's exultant shout; to save empires, temporal and spiritual. In business, our opening philological effort represents a quality in the printing or lithographing of advertising-matter that has proved the "open sesame" to fortune. Remember the word and order today.
